FALCON TRAGEDY

IT has been a frustrating road back to football for star West Perth ruck rover Peter Murnane.

Murnane injury costly

The Falcons desperately need the former Hawthorn player back in their league side — but time is running out.

Murnane was the key player in West Perth's climb up the premiership table last year, when they reached the preliminary final.

But this year his battle to recover from a knee injury has now been going on for 14 weeks and though there is some improvement, he will not commit himself about a return.

However, Murnane is confident he will play league football in 1983.

Murnane underwent an operation for roughening under his knee cap shortly before the season started and was told he would be out of action for four to six weeks.

But later he was told that the recovery period could by anything from four months to six months.

Things did not look too bright for the hard-running Murnane until about a fortnight ago when he began a special beach programme as part of his therapy.

"I have been running in knee deep water for up to 50 minutes a session," the dedicated linkman says. "I have really been working hard and it seems to be coming up all right.

"Besides running in the water I have been running on the sand and I am aiming at making a gradual progression to the stage where I can once again run on grass without too much discomfort.

"I will not play until I am 100 per cent fit. I want to be able to run at top pace on grass with minimal pain."

The Falcons have lacked the run which was a feature of their game last season and a fit Murnane could decide their destiny this year.

He was the driving force behind their marked improvement in 1982.

However West Perth coach Dennis Cometti was not optimistic about having the club's top recruit of last season fit and playing again before the 1983 finals start.

And he will need several weeks in the reserves to get match fitness.

If West Perth can make the finals this year without Murnane, he will be their trump card when fit and available to play. His greatest asset is his ability to run all day and dispose of the ball with great expertise.

Because of the nature of the injury it is imperative that he bides his time until he is completely right to play.

THE BROWN CLAN

OFF to the football, Brown family style.

When the Stephen Michael Express travelled from Fremantle to Bassendean last Saturday, South coach Mal Brown went along with his wife Kay and daughter Philippa — who enjoyed the pram ride and the train ride.

Train trip

STEPHEN Michael seemed a little overawed by the fuss surrounding the two special trains organised for the trip to Bassendean for his 200th game last Saturday. Though he was as co-operative as usual with the Press photographers at Fremantle station, he drew the line when one photo man aksed him to climb down onto the railway track to have his photo taken. "Not on your life" he said, as he posed with both feet firmly set on the platform. Incidentally, it was the first time the Bulldog captain had ever travelled on the much publicised Fremantle rail link.

Shark Nolan

RELUCTANT Royal John Nolan has quickly found his niche at East Fremantle. After being cleared from East Perth last week he played in the Sharks reserves side last Saturday and won the club's best player award in that match — though many critics thought that the award may have been a little charitable. Ron Alexander was impressed however, and said the lanky ruckman should soon work his way into the league side.

Hard worker

One could not help but feel for hard working Royals ruck rover Greg Walsh when his side went down to the rejuvenated Lions last week. Walsh ran himself ragged in a variety of roles as coach Greg Brehaut tried everything he could to pick up the vital four points. Walsh was the most effective Royal and the only one to contribute for the full 100 minutes and amassed an incredible number of possessions with 17 kicks, seven marks and 19 hand passes. Unfortunately Walsh had too few team-mates willing to follow the lead he was showing.

DIVIDED LOYALTIES

THE youngest brother of the more famed Wayne and Doug Simms made his debut for the Subiaco Football Club last Saturday. Garry Simms has been a regular member of WAFA club South Perth and is a close friend of Lions back pocket player Steve Leishman. It was at Leishman's suggestion that Simms try his luck with the Lions and he lined up as an interchange in the reserves side. Ironically his debut coincided with Doug's first senior game with the Falcons making the Simms' family loyalties now shared among three league clubs, with Wayne currently recovering from injury at Perth.

Home advantage

THIS may sound like being wise after the event, but still worthy of WAFL consideration. East Perth can lay some blame for their surprise loss at the hands of Subiaco last week to the home ground advantage, especially when the breeze was at its height. Only local knowledge helped big Brendon McFaull steer some of his goals home. But officially the game was a Royals home game and counted as their game to be played at League headquarters. If the WAFL wants clubs to play at Subiaco they should not coincide with a Lions fixture, thus effectively giving Subiaco another home game.

Royals general-manager Trevor Nisbett was philosophical about the whole thing when he said, "If we'd won, which we should have done, you wouldn't have considered the home ground situation. But after losing you think then maybe we should have played it at Perth Oval."

Nisbett added, "We may have lost at Perth, which would have been worse."

OVER THE FENCE

Another Mitzy?

PERTH supporters could have been excused for thinking former Demon star Chris Mitsopoulos was making a comeback against Claremont last Saturday. Mitsopoulos was a star of the Demons 1977 grand final win and in the reserves last Saturday there was a player with the same mop of black bair, about the same height and the same characteristics — he even had the same kicking style and incorporated the same numbers on the back of his guernsey — except his read 42 and Mitzy made number 24 famous. It wasn't Mitzy, it was an up and coming young player called Warren Marshall, and if he can continue to duplicate the performances of Mitsopoulos he will be a fine player for Perth. Let's hope he does not have the same injury problems.

Cheer squad unhappy

Following the West Perth cheer squad being moved from the area behind the goals at Leederville Oval a fortnight ago, they are seeking an apology from the club. The squad was perched on the boundary line and hung their floggers and flags over the fence, covering the Town and Country WA sign. But they made a phone call to the building society and received permission to drape their streamers onto the sign.

Heavy going

SUBIACO must have thought they were in for another bad day when they ran onto the ground for their clash against the Royals at Subiaco Oval last Saturday. The league side ran headlong into a huge motivation banner which was catching the strong south-easterly breeze like the spinnaker of Alan Bond's Australia II. Clinton Brown was first to realise the force it was presenting and then Steve Leishman and other Lions hit the banner only to bounce back as if hitting a brick wall. But the will and desperation to get on with the game saw perseverence pay off and the Lions broke the banner after much effort and energy, which may well have been the kind of pre-game preparation they needed to produce their match winning form.

Big brother worried

...Vics restrict WA selection

CHRIS MITSOPOULOS is this week's Guest Columnist presented by McInerney Ford

Former Perth and WA rover now a commentator with radio 6IX

ONCE again the WAFL and the WA football public have to contend with the selfish, single-minded and short-sighted attitude of the VFL.

The VFL, in its 'wisdom', has again decided to restrict the WA selectors in choosing their team to play the Big 'V' on Tuesday week.

Only one WA player from each VFL club is allowed to be selected for the all important clash to decide the national champions for 1983.

As a result, WA fans may be deprived of seeing players of the calibre of Rob Wiley, Peter Bosustow, Mike Fitzpatrick, Wayne Otway, Brian Peake, Peter Featherby, Phil Krakouer, Phil Kelly and a couple of others who would have otherwise come under strong consideration for selection.

On the other hand, the Vics — for the first time for some years — have declared that selection for their team will not be restricted.

Are they actually treating an interstate game seriously at last?

Surely, interstate football is not taking precedence over club football!

No doubt, the drubbing at the hands of the Croweaters earlier this year caused the VFL hierachy to change their tune.

Despite the VFL's decision, the WA selectors have ample scope to pick a very strong side to take on the Vics.

I only hope that they make use of the players who will be available for selection from Victoria.

It has been suggested that we do not need many of our expatriates, as there is enough talent locally to take on the Victorians.

I am not disputing the young talent in WA football at the moment, but let's not get carried away with our victory over South Australia.

History has proven that SA cannot handle WA on our home ground and vice versa.

The Victorians are a different kettle of fish and WA will need its very best side to win.

With due respect to those players who performed so creditably against SA, I believe at least nine expatriates should be in the WA side.

In saying that, I am not suggesting that the local footballers are not good enough.

MY TEAM

Backs:	Rod Barrett	Gary Malarkey	Graham Moss
Half-backs:	Don Langsford	Ross Glendinning	Ken Hunter
Centres:	Mike Smith	Maurice Rioli	Alan Johnson
Half-forwards:	Wayne Blackwell	Garry Sidebottom	Garry Buckenara
Forwards:	Mike Richardson	Warren Ralph	Willie Roe
Ruck:	Paul Harding	Stephen Michael	Tony Buhagiar
Interchange:	Kevin Taylor	Brad Hardie	Ron Boucher

I am sure that club players in Victoria welcome this change of heart by the administrators — even though it was caused by dented pride rather than foresight.

No matter what code of sport, to represent your State is a great honour and a personal achievement that many sportsmen and women cherish for the rest of their lives.

But to restrict WA selection is ludicrous.

How many times has it been said that the game is greater than the individual or the individual club.

One wonders whether certain VFL officials who preach that philosophy, actually practice it.

How dinkum are these people about the future of the game? While restricting selection is not a bone shattering issue, it's just another chapter in a story which has a theme of VFL selfishness.

The State-of-Origin concept has been a great tonic since its inception.

No longer are WA sides a pushover for the Big 'V'.

Who could forget WA's great first State-of-Origin win and the tremendous support given by the public to the correspondening game last year.

Yes, interstate football is an integral part of promoting our game and it is time some of those 'progressive thinking' Victorian officials realised it.

On the contrary, I believe that individually, most, if not all of the players who represented WA against SA would more than hold their own in the VFL competition.

At present, however, collectively they would face a daunting task against players who play in the best competition in the land, and are exposed to pressure football week in and week out.

It is a generally accepted fact that the sustained pressure in Victoria is the difference between WA and Victorian football.

The WA players in the Eastern States have adapted to that pressure and, as such, would provide the necessary balance for WA to win this game.

Furthermore, it would be disappointing for WA supporters if they did not get the opportunity to see players who have made a name for themselves in Victoria, back here representing their State.

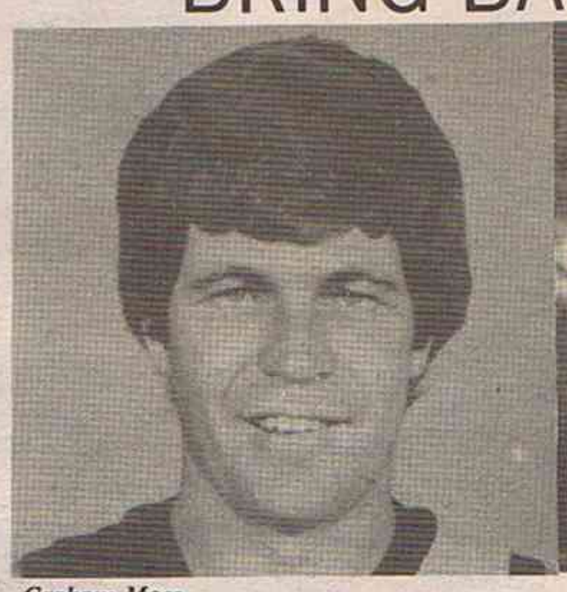
Players who could be considered unlucky in missing out because of the restriction would be Robert Wiley (particularly so), Peter Bosustow, Peter Featherby and possibly Phil Krakouer.

On the home front, Shane Ellis, Les Fong, Mike Aitken and Murray Rance may miss a berth.

I believe this side has the flexibility, form and mixture of youth and experience to score the points off the Big 'V'

In my opinion, Malarkey, Glendinning,

BRING BACK MOSS



Graham Moss

Mike Smith

Rioli and Hunter are automatic selections.

Gary Sidebottom has returned to the form that made him one of the first picked in past WA sides and Johnson, Buckenara, Richardson and Buhagiar, on performances in the VFL, deserve selection.

Of the local players, Michael and Ralph (despite his questionable performance against SA) are automatic inclusions.

Paul Harding and Don Langsford, by their continued outstanding club form and excellent interstate debuts pick themselves.

Willie Roe is an exciting player with superb skills and needs to be exposed to this level of football to determine whether he has got what it takes to succeed.

Wayne Blackwell is a magnificent competitior and is the type of player who would succeed at any level of football.

I believe the dedication, discipline and perseverance shown by the gifted Mike Smith in his remarkable comeback will pay dividends when he should get the nod for a wing berth over his teammate Phil Narkle, who this year hasn't produced the form that made him the 1982 Sandover Medallist.

Rod Barrett has returned to his reliable best and should regain his back pocket position.

Despite the decision of the WA selectors to omit Graham Moss from the SA game I firmly believe he is a must for this game. His experience in the backline would be invaluable. But more importantly it would be a fitting tribute to a man (the only WA player to win a Brownlow Medal) who has given great service to the game to finish his interstate career against our arch rivals, the Big 'V'.

And I'm sure young Paul Harding would benefit greatly from Moss's presence on the field.

Ron Boucher, continually overlooked by State selectors, deserves selection.

With the right temperament and controlled aggression, 'Roo' could prove a lot of his knockers wrong that he has got what it takes to succeed at State level.

Finally, Taylor and Hardie provide the selectors with alternatives should they be required.

The agony and the ecstasy

A LOT has been said and written about the amazing comeback of Mike Smith to senior football.

His triumphant return has been well pronounced even to the extent that he could find himself in the State side to meet Victoria on July 12.

In stark contrast, Wayne Simms continues to be frustrated in his plans to make a return to competitive football.

Both players required major reconstruction to their knees and it would have been easy to give the game away after such problems.

To their credit, both have persevered, one has succeeded and the other is struggling.

I only hope that Wayne's enthusiasm does not dampen after a series of mishaps, because he still has a lot to offer to WA football.

Perhaps, brother Doug, who promised so much at Perth but only gave occasionally, can keep the Simms' flag flying by responding to the challenge of a new club.

He has enormous ability and his first up effort with West Perth was a good one.

I know Wayne would love to be playing — you can, Doug, so make the most of it.

...experience plays a vital role

SUBIACO may be going through a torrid time at the moment . . . but one man who continues to play solid football is defender Rod Brown.

One of the most experienced players in the young Lions line-up, Brown has an important role to play in the development of Subiaco into a playing force in the competition.

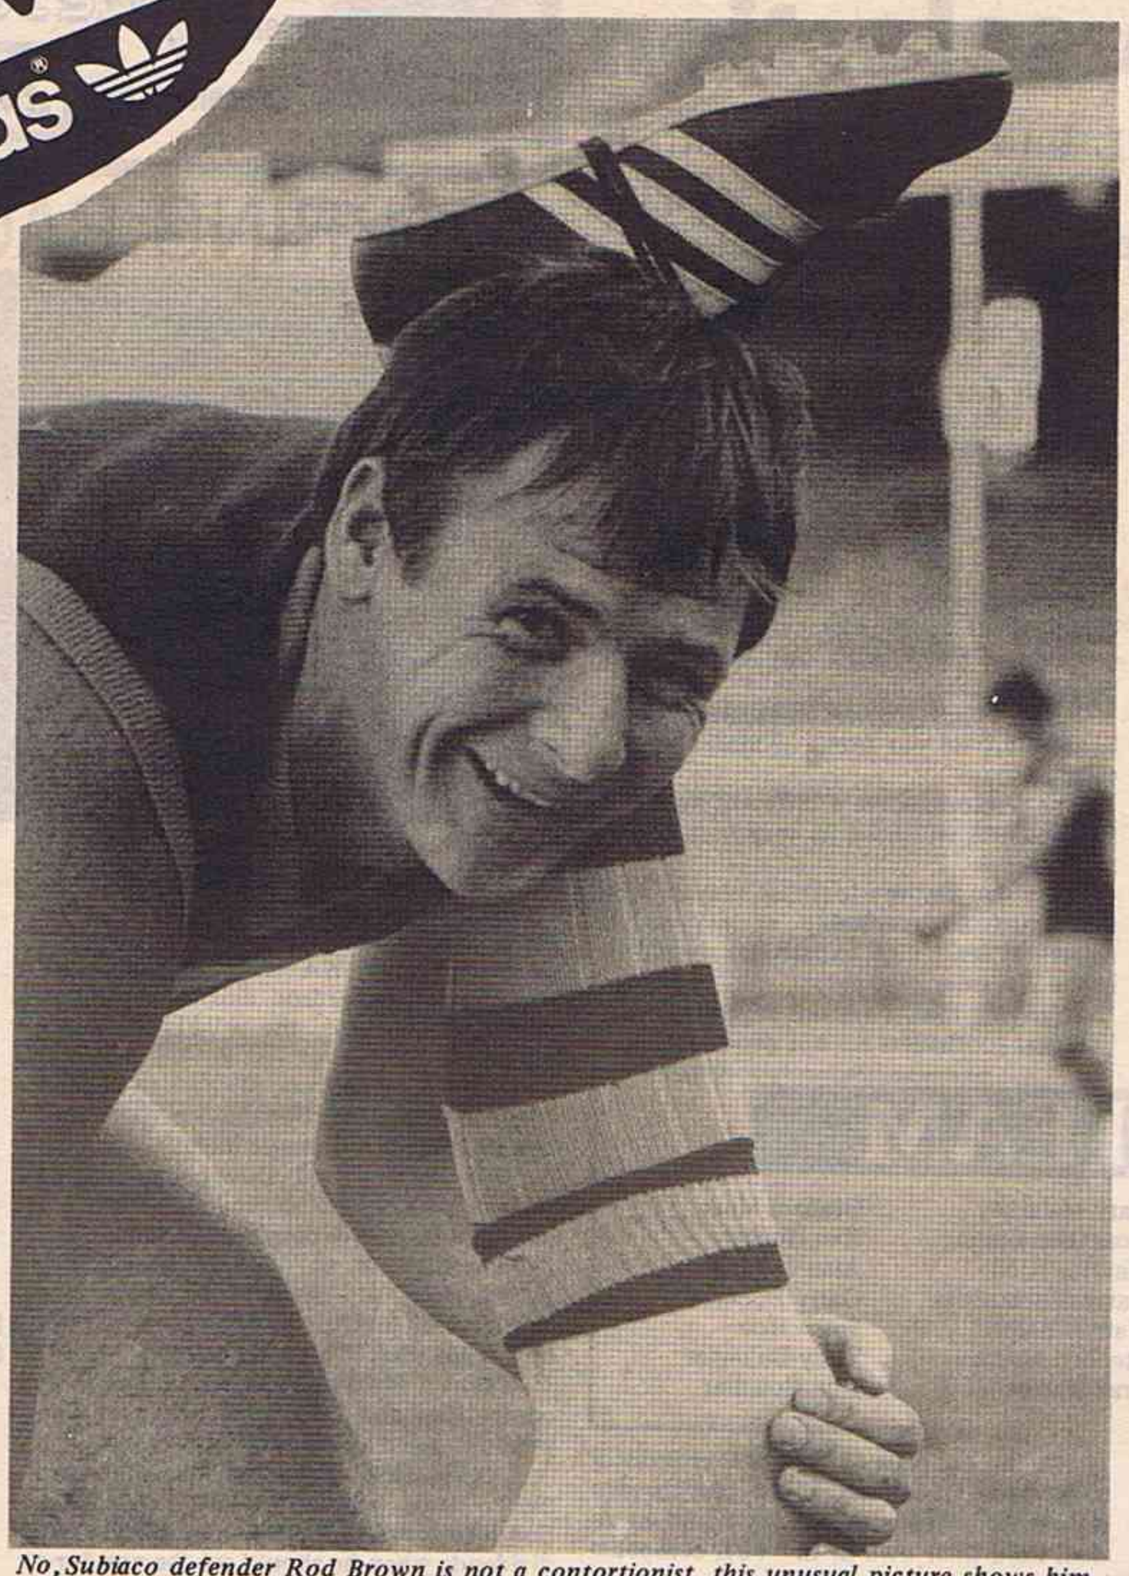
Since 1973 Subiaco have been a disaster. They have struggled to be competitive and have never really been a threat to any of the top sides.

But Brown has shown he is one of the best defenders in this State with consistent contributions week after week. He has much to offer Subiaco and, in particular, the young players.

He has set a high standard despite Subiaco's poor showings and it takes a dedicated player to be able to contribute at that level when a side is losing almost every week.

Brown sees some light at the end of the tunnel for the troubled Lions, although he believes it could take four or five years to get to where they are aiming.

Westside Football's GARY STOCKS spoke to the tough defender and found out more about his switch from Swan Districts to Subiaco and also his views on the future of the Lions.



No, Subiaco defender Rod Brown is not a contortionist, this unusual picture shows him helping a team mate warm up before a training session.

Q. I suppose the Peter Daniel affair must have been hard on the players?

A. The most surprising part was that the decision came out of the blue and no-one realised what was going on. Obviously things were not going well at the club. I hadn't followed the newspapers very closely, but I read in the West on the Tuesday morning that Subiaco denied he would be replaced as coach. Then the next day he was gone. It was hard to take. Obviously the fact that we weren't playing well put a lot of pressure on people at the club.

Q. What about your initial move to Subiaco – that must have been difficult?

A. I have lived in Cloverdale and Redcliffe in the Swans area all my life. But when I came back from Adelaide I went to Swans and had a talk with them but we could not reach any agreement over my contract. So that was that.

Q. How have you enjoyed it at Subiaco?

A. I have enjoyed it. The comradship among the players and the club itself has been fairly good. They have looked after me well and I am happy from that point of view — it has just been unfortunate that we haven't been able to put it together out in the middle. That is disappointing.

Q. What do you think is wrong with Subiaco?

A. At the moment we have a blend of experienced players and we have some good young players. But what we possibly need is one or two more experienced players who could give us that bit of impetus at times when we need it. We have our share of of the ball, but we don't seem to use it well enough. We just don't seem to capitalise. It's hard to put your finger on it really. We tend to be a little too indirect and we go short too often. Today's style of football is to go long and run. We are endeavouring to try to adopt that sort of game now. It will take some time before we can get that type of game together. Plus we need a couple of runners who can accommodate that style of play. I think we also seem to have all our experienced players congregated in the one area.

Q. You must have enjoyed playing at centre half forward for those couple of games last year?

A. Yes. It was great. I played my first game with Swans at full forward, but when I kicked only one goal that was the end of my career up there. I played a lot of games at centre half back with Swans before I went to Adelaide. I have now played the majority of my games with Subiaco in one of the key defensive spots, but when I get a run up forward I enjoy it. Sometimes in the backline you have to play too negatively. I prefer to sometimes make the play and that is why I enjoy it up there. It is also good to kick goals instead of trying to stop someone else kick them.

Q. Have you appreciated your role at Subiaco where you have taken on extra responsibility?

A. Well I have played almost 200 league games now and I think I should be expected to take on greater responsibility in the side — particularly in view of the way we are going. I am probably one of the most expereinced palyers in the side and it should be natural that I should take on extra responsibility. It is something I have also enjoyed. I think Subiaco has a future and I would like to think I have an important role to play in that future.

Q. The Subiaco defence seems pretty stable – what is it like playing down there?

A. Yes. Well I think that is the area where we do have most of our experienced players. On the half back line we have Ray Reeves and while he is not old as far as games are concerned, he has been playing there for a couple of seasons at Subiaco and he played a lot of football in amateurs. Then on the flanks we normally have Dwayne Lamb and Michael Sheldon. Dwayne won the fairest and best award last year and he has been playing for several seasons now. Michael is also an experienced player and then at full back where I normally play — we have a bit more experience. Steve Leishman has played most of his games from a back pocket and though he is a first year player he has also played a fair aount of football in other competitions. Our forward line lacks that touch of experience and that is why I enjoy playing there. We need some one who can bring the younger players into the game and I try to do that when I play at centre half forward.

Q. Is playing 200 games one of your ambitions and perhaps 150 with Subiaco?

A. Certainly 200 games is something I am aiming at and at the end of this year I will probably be on about 190. I will sit down and have a look at the situation at the end of this year. I will take it season by season. It is getting to the stage where I would like to spend more time with my family. Football is much more demanding than when I first started playing. It was a two-day-a-week training commitment and then playing on Saturdays. But now we train three or four times a week during pre-season and we have two main training sessions once the seasons starts. However, on Monday nights a few of us go in and push some weights. On top of that we have to train Sunday morning and it is becoming harder every year.

Q. Can you see any light at the end of the tunnel?

A. Yes, I can. Like I said before all we need is to pick up a couple of experienced players and we can play a part in the finals. It is very disappointing at the moment, however I believe we can improve. I think our training has had something to do with our poor performances on the field. We tend to train at nothing more than three quarter pace and I believe that shows up in the games. When another side gets a run on we do not have the power to stop them. I think we need to lift the pace of our training. We have broken down the length of our training sessions recently and concentrated more on short-sharp workouts and hopefully that will begin to tell in games soon.

Royals to halt Shark run

By GARY STOCKS

THE East Fremantle run is about to come to an end.

The Sharks, after losing their first five games, have since won five of their last eight matches, but their run at a first semi final berth will be halted by East Perth.

The Royals thrashed East Fremantle by 84 points in the first series and they will be desperate for a return to form after being shock losers to Subiaco last week.

East Perth had a make-shift side in against the Lions and they paid for their poor performance on the training track during the week.

That was a game they desperately needed to win to stay in front of East Fremantle and West Perth.

The Sharks have been playing brilliant but sometimes inconsistent football, in the last two months and they cannot afford to be spasmodic against a side like East Perth.

Young sides are often very good one week and ordinary the next and they will need to be at their best to down the Royals on their home turf.

One of the highlights of the match should be the duel between two of this State's best young ruckmen — John Ironmonger (East Perth) and Paul Harding.

Last week East Perth played Chris Allen, Peter Spencer, Peter Thorne and Alex Hamilton when they were not fit and they cannot do it against an East Fremantle side which is brim full of confidence and running.

Tony Solin . . . a key Swan

VITAL ONE FOR FALCONS

WEST Perth cannot afford to lose to Subiaco.

A loss will spell the end of the West Perth challenge for the vital first semi final spot. But they are not playing well and Subiaco, after their encouraging win against East Perth, must go into this contest with some chance.

They played well enough in beating East Perth to suggest there may be some light at the end of the tunnel and they could make West Perth fight every centimetre of the way.

The Falcons have too much at stake and they have everything to gain. The added incentive should see them produce the sort of effort they have promised for so long — yet they have failed to provide.

They were unlucky against East Fremantle last week but excuses can no longer be made for them.

They didn't win and it all boils down to the fact that they weren't good enough. Coach Dennis Cometti will be chasing an extraordinary effort this week.

Because they have every incentive to do well, West Perth should win the contest.

Top two in Port Clash

THE clash at the top of the table between South Fremantle and Claremont should be a great match.

South will be looking to rebound after a drubbing at the hands of Swan Districts and Claremont will need to improve dramatically after their poor effort against Perth.

When they decided to play team football they looked great — but they only played for 1½ quarters and anything less than a four quarter effort against the Bulldogs will see them on the receiving end of a hiding.

To play South Fremantle, particularly at Fremantle Oval, any team needs maximum effort and the Tigers form has slipped in the last month.

South's normally potent forward line was relatively quiet against Swans and they will be looking for improvement in this area.

They can be excused for one bad week and they will return to their best on Saturday. The stakes are high. Apart from victory giving one side the advantage for the run at the $12,000 from Town and Country WA for finishing on top of the ladder the second series $5,000 Marlboro Cup award will be up for grabs.

A number of Souths stars were well down on form against Swans and they will rise to the occasion and in a close call will see their side across the line.

Swans should be too good

SWAN Districts should come out on top in their game against Perth.

However, it will not be easy. The Demons showed against Claremont that when they are taken lightly they can extend so-called better teams.

Swans revealed their power in beating South and the signs are ominous for Perth. Swans produced the brand of football which saw them clinch their first premiership in 18 seasons last year and they look dangerous.

Generally they do not take sides too easily and they should be able to win the four points on Saturday.

OLD FACES

It was interesting to see the selection of a large number of more experienced players in the initial VFL squad to play in the coming State game. I am sure players like Dench, Greig, Dempsey, Rowlings, Browning, Knights and Tuck particularly, considered their interstate days were over. Their form must warrant selection, but also the Victorian selectors realise they are looking down the barrel of a second interstate defeat this season. That would make WA winners in the Australian Championships, which would dent the Victorian ego.

BIG DAY

The Perth Football Club will be holding a celebrity football game on Sunday, July 17 at Lathlain Park between a side comprised of players from the 1970's against the current team. Already the boys from yesteryear have had two Sunday training runs with players like Ken Inman, Murray Couper, Colin Lofts, Chris Mitsopoulos , Mike McPhee and Doug Farrant still using the drop kick — oh memories! It should be a great day and at this stage I'm odds on to be captain coach of the '80s team from out of a forward pocket.

I received a letter from former Subiaco captain-coach Brian Douge last week. He and his wife Jenny are studying at Ohio University, and other than missing our game he is enjoying the total involvement in campus life. He believes our sports could learn much from many of the US established counter-parts. He made mention of the incredible support given to amateur athletics, such as the college basketball team – it averages 15,000 spectators each game – with all gate receipts going to the university. Their uninhibited draft system ensures that the teams are relatively even and all games are played with encouraging gamesmanship and sportsmanship. Of course they do have a population advantage, but with such fierce competition it is easy to see why their sportspeople are so good.

WHEN IT COUNTS

There is no substitute for experience, and gauging from the TV replay, Kevin Taylor used all his in a brilliant last quarter against West Perth. He helped his side get the ball away from the centre and showed all the skill he is known for. I believe he was helped out by interchange player Mario Turco with his experience. He is a forgotten man of WA football who has returned to this State after three years in Victoria.

CLAREMONT FACILITIES

Claremont can be proud of their new extensions to both player and social rooms, they are great. But after Saturday I would like them to spend a couple of dollars for a louder siren. I believe Warren Ralph kicked a goal after the three quarter time siren — the umpire apparently didn't hear it. I am glad it wasn't the final kick in a grand final.

CALL FOR BAN ON RECRUITING

VFL chairman of selectors, Ian Ridley, has called for a two year moratorium on interstate recruiting by Victorian clubs.

He said this week that many clubs were "recruiting for recruiting sake".

VFL clubs now seemed to be grabbing mediocre players who they cannot afford, nor can WA or SA afford to let go.

He said: "VFL clubs now seemed to be taking the ordinary players because they are the only ones left when it came to their turn in the draft system".

"Nobody can benefit if this sytem is allowed to continue and encourage haphazard recruiting" he said.

A two-year ban on recruiting would not of course include players already drafted. However, it would give parties on both sides a chance to re-assess the current policy.

VFL Report

Clubs in SA and WA would have time to regenerate and VFL clubs would receive some respite from their huge financial problems.

Mr Ridley said that the WA players most likely to succeed in Victoria were already drafted; were on Form Fours or were too young to be drafted.

Though not hopeful that the VFL will support his plan, Mr Ridley said it would be at least a start if clubs were limited to one player a year.

JOHN CAHILL

Woods make it

COLLINGWOOD, in the VFL top five for the first time this year, are determined to stay there according to their coach John Cahill.

"If the players really assess the worth of last Saturday's win, we should kick on.

"Really it is up to us now to prove that we are good enough to stay there", he said.

WALLS HAPPY

FITZROY coach Robert Walls, not noted for optimistic predictions, has finally conceded that the Lions are capable of winning their first premiership since 1944.

His bold forecast followed his team's fighting win over Essendon, the side below them on the VFL ladder.

IN BRIEF...

Beasley benched

SIMON Beasley is on the verge of being dropped from the Footscray senior side.

He spent the greater part of last Saturday's match against Melbourne on the interchange bench.

Bulldogs coach Bluey Hampshire said after the match "He is close to being dropped".

"Simon hasn't kicked well in the last two games and we will have to look long and hard when we select this Saturday's side" he said.

Small crowd

THE smallest crowd to attend a VFL match this season reflected the poor Melbourne based support the Sydney Swans now attract.

This combined with cold, wet weather was responsible for only 7408 people attending the game between the Swans and North Melbourne at Arden Street last Saturday. It was the smallest crowd to attend a match at the ground for 16 years.

Kelly in strife

PHIL Kelly phoned Barry Cable last Friday night to say he would have to withdraw from the following day's line-up. The duel Sandover Medallist was suffering migrane headaches from pain caused after a filling had fallen out of one of his teeth. Kelly thought he would have to put up with the problem till dentists re-opened on Monday. Cable got his team manager into action. He, in turn, rang his father to fix Kelly's problem. North's team manager is Tony Aylett, son of VFL president Dr Allen Aylet who is a dental surgeon.

Doull hits 300

ONE of Australian football's greatest characters — and players — has joined the elite 300 Club.

Bruce Doull, often referred to as the Flying Doormat because of his long hair and his Rasputin looks, will lead Carlton out this Saturday against Melbourne to celebrate his 300th senior club game.

A brilliant defender over the years, Doull has been a mystery man off the football field — preferring to keep out of the limelight and avoid the glamour life of a VFL star.

But on the field he has been a champion; a dashing defender who has never let the Blues down and has represented his State with distinction 11 times.

Doull, 32, is now the 16th player in the VFL's 87 years to join the exclusive 300 Club — joining Ian Nankervis, Kevin Bartlett and Gary Dempsey as the only 300-game players still active in league ranks.

The journey to the 300-game milestone was nearly thwarted last year when Doull announced his retirement at the end of the season. But with just 15 games needed to make the 300-mark, it wasn't hard to entice him back for another season.

Doull is a team man of the highest order and though he keeps to himself off the field, his dedication and loyalty to the Blues cause has always been foremost in his football.

Leading Melbourne football writer, Geoff Poulter, compiled this list of credits about Doull, the footballer, in his Sporting Globe tribute to the champion:

★ Cool thinking, amazing recovery, disciplined, one-grab marking, speedy, decisive, superb tackling skills, radar-like play reading, immaculate disposal, finely tuned balance, fearless approach, controlled aggression and a touch of meanness.

Recruited from the country area of Jacana, Doull has won Carlton's fairest and best three times (1974-77-80), made the All-Australian team in 1979 and was a member of four premiership sides — 1972-79-81-82.

CAMPBELL SMILING

Former West Perth coach Graham Campbell, after a disastrous start to his South Australian coaching career is ecstatic now that Glenelg have won four of their last five games.

He said after last week's win over top side West Adelaide that his players now had much needed belief in their own ability.

Campbell is now confident the side which was sitting on the bottom of the premiership table for so long can now make the final five.

He said there was a possibility that they could slip into the finals through the back door and if they failed they would aim for the best possible position.

Campbell was relieved of his position just over a month ago but after strong lobbying from the players he was given another chance and is now doing everything right.

SANFL Report

Granger debut

Former Port Adelaide star David Granger made his debut in country football with Solomtown in the Spencer Gulf League last Sunday.

Granger, nicknamed Grave Danger by the Adelaide press, was reported in the SA preliminary final last year when he was involved in several heated exchanges.

It was rumoured that West Perth were trying to coax the tough centre half forward to Perth this year, but negotiations broke down.

Sturt want Klomp

With the clearance deadline rapidly approaching Sturt are anxious to sign Robbert Klomp, who resigned from Carlton last week.

Although the former Blue indicated he wanted to remain in Melbourne, the SA club's enthusiasm was not dampened.

Sacked St Kilda forward Mark Jackson was named as a possibility to join Central District.

BENNETT'S BURST

By Robert Bennett well respected football writer.

Finals race is wide open

THIS year's final round is looming as one of the most interesting for a number of years.

There is no clear-cut favourite for the flag at this stage and a case can be made for any of the top three sides to win it.

East Fremantle's transformation from a side battling to avoid the wooden spoon to one vying for a place in the four has injected further interest in the competition.

Despite their loss on Saturday, I slightly favour South Fremantle ahead of Claremont to win the premiership.

South were due to put in a bad one and Swan Districts are never easy to handle at Bassendean Oval. South could easily have been undefeated prior to that clash — not bad when you are 13 games into the season.

South are a lot better than they showed on Saturday. I don't think a couple of losses will concern coach Mal Brown, just as long as South don't lose the chance to play in the second semi-final.

SECOND SPOT

How good Claremont are will emerge over the next two weeks when they play South and Swans away. A loss in both matches could see Swans breathing right down their neck for a second semi-final berth.

Claremont are something of an enigma. They were very impressive when they won their first eight games, but since then have been more mediocre than brilliant.

Swans are now steaming towards a place in the semi-final after an indifferent start to the season, mainly through injury.

But they still have a big job ahead of them to get the double chance. They are conceding virtually three games, because of their inferior percentage, over the next eight matches ot the top two sides.

I doubt that they can wrest one of the top two positions, however, if they can't then their chance of successfully defending last year's premiership will be severely eroded.

Even though they convincingly won the flag last year I don't think Swans play their best football on the wide expanses of Subiaco Oval.

Despite East Fremantle's late run for a place in the four, I doubt that any side outside the top three can will the flag.

For East Fremantle to make the four they will need to beat East Perth on Saturday. It won't be an easy assignment.

HAPPY RECORD

The Royals have the character to rise to the occasion when they have their backs to the wall and the Sharks don't have a very happy record at Perth Oval.

The way they handled Claremont and then went close to toppling South Fremantle indicates that East Fremantle are capable of shaking up other sides in the finals if they make the four.

But I don't think they are equipped to win a flag this season.

I think the Royals will scrape into the four. But it's hard to understand how a side can put in their best and worst performance of the season in the space of a fortnight.

When they toppled Claremont on the Tigers' home ground, the Royals looked set to stitch up a place in the four. Two losses in a row since then have put them off the rails.

A CHANCE

I'd be more inclined to remember their performance against Claremont than the one against Subiaco on Saturday.

West Perth still have a chance to make the finals, but as I said last week, I think they are the least likely to make the four out of the three teams vying for a spot.

Three losses by less than a goal will probably be the telling factor when post mortems are held at the end of the qualifying rounds as to why the Falcons missed the four.

FOOTBALL FORUM

Sir,

In this column last week "The Hood" mentioned the directive given to the West Perth cheer squad to move because they were partly covering one of the perimeter advertising signs. I was disappointed that he did not direct any criticism towards those giving the directions.

It seems to me that the powers that be in WA football are losing sight of what football is about. On the same day in the Football Budget the "Football" quiz consisted of one question: Who are the sponsors of the eight league clubs and the league's two major sponsors.

While I am well aware of the need for sponsors and the finance they provide in return for exposure, it should not be forgotten that football is about the players, coaches and what happens inside the boundary. Football is in the entertainment business, so it's "bums on seats" that are all important.

By dampening the enthusiasm of these young and not so young cheer squad members I feel the game has been done a dis-service. The West Perth cheer squad has consistently provided a very high standard run-through for the league team, but there was none before the East Fremantle match the following week – could there be any connection between these events?

I am a member of the West Perth Football Club, have been a supporter for 20 years and have no connections with the cheer squad.

Yours faithfully,
– A. MEYRICK

THE HOOD

WA's most feared footy columnist.

NIGHTMARE FOR J.K.

SUBIACO'S victory over East Perth was not unpredictable in view of their current coaching upheavel — clubs seem to react to that type of constroversy. One person who didn't find it too acceptable, however, was one-eyed Loyal Royal, John K. Watts of radio 6PR fame. John (Knowall) Watts actually had to commentate on the debacle! He summed up his feelings — and those of many other Royals fans — that this was some nightmare and he couldn't get over the fact that Subiaco were actually kicking the ball direct instead of going all over the place.

Pat on the back

THIS columnist has often fired barbed arrows at scoreboards around our WAFL venues that fail to inform the public. Well, the reverse is the case this time. We have to hand out a pat on the back to the Claremont Oval people — for added efficiency. At the end of the reserves game they put up the results of the reserves matches at all the other grounds — an excellent move, keep it up fellows!

Let down

THE two special trains from Fremantle to Bassendean last Saturday were a great success as far as the South Fremantle Football Club was concerned. The Fremantle station has not seen such activity for many a day. It was a pity that there were no exterior indications to mark the occasion. A little red and white bunting or a sign or two would have given the whole exercise a lot more atmosphere. They even overlooked bringing any adhesive tape to stick two specially painted signs on the front of the trains and the signs rode inside with the diesel driver. The 1400 people who lined up in front of the station were locked out in sprinkling rain while there was no reason why they shouldn't have been let in to stand on the covered platform.

THIS WEEK'S BEST PEST

There was really only one candidate for the Flick Best Pest title this week — it has to go to that domineering body — the Victorian Football League. Although they are odds on to finish third in the Australian Football Championships they are still laying down the law. The hide of them. Surely WA or SA should have the right to choose who ever they like for State of Origin games. Because the VFL has taken the stand allowing only one WA player from each of the VFL clubs to represent their home State for the match on Tuesday, July 12 several WA born stars will be denied the right to don their State guernsey — the greatest honour that can be bestowed on any player in any sport.

Disciplined

Three young Subiaco players are believed to have been disciplined last week for drinking.

The three — two of whom were certainly in line to play in the league side — were reportedly found drinking late in the week.

Subsequently, they all made early appearances at Subiaco Oval on Saturday.

Harry Morgan

Sarcastic Harry

EAST Fremantle president Harry Morgan added a touch of sarcasism to his after-match address to members at East Fremantle last Saturday. It was the club's first home game since the controversial derby after which he and Ron Alexander made outbursts against the umpires. Firstly, he asked if Robbie Burns was in the audience (obviously he credited the Daily News reporter for bringing his comments to public notice) then he said that the umpires had done a brilliant job last Saturday — and that must have been tongue in cheek! He said he had invited them up for a drink, but they had another engagement. When introducing Ron Alexander to members, he said he believed Ron was in the final stages in his negotiations for the purchase of a new Mercedes.

More for your money!

VFL secretary Ralph Lane raised a few heckles in Sydney last week when he suggested that Aussie Rules was twice the game of rugby . . . and that was why people had to pay twice the price to see it.

For a spot on the Hill at the Sydney Cricket Ground for VFL matches it costs $6.60 (that's 60 cents more than in Melbourne). Yet Sydney rugby fans pay only $2.80 to watch rugby league matches.

Not associated

As much as I believe those yahoos from the back of the Leederville stand do not deserve space in this column, I should mention that I got a message from the official West Perth cheer squad which disputed claims by the group that the cheer squad was formed from within the ranks. On that note the matter rests.

Final year

TAKE it from me — this will be Dennis Cometti's final year as coach of the Falcons. I have heard that he has been offered a top job with the ABC in Sydney and, furthermore, that he has accepted the posting. If the story is true, our loss will be Sydney's gain. Dennis has been a professional in every sphere of his life, particularly in the football and media world.

RADIO RUMOURS

There are rumours buzzing around the media world at the moment concerning the possible sale of one of Perth's commercial radio stations. However, the most interesting story I have heard is that the WAFL should be encouraged to purchase the "said station" and operate its aquisition from Subiaco Oval. Think about it — the WA Turf Club and the WA Trotting Association now own and operate radio 6PR. What about football having a "real voice" it would also be a tremendous assistance in the marketing of WAFL products too. Vince Yovich, it's over to you.

FOOTBALL FACTS

With DAVE CLEMENT WA's top football historian.

FLYING FAIRCLOUGH

SUBIACO'S new coach Brian (Froggy) Fairclough is off to a flying start in his coaching career. It was flying 19 years ago that made him famous as well.

Fairclough, and his Tiger team mate Allan Mycock were credited as being the first footballers to fly regularly to league football. Their 50 minute flight from Dumbleyung every Saturday morning during the 1964 season cost Claremont plenty, but it was money well spent because they won their first premiership in 24 years.

Some seven years later West Perth flew two Wickepin farmers, Greg Astbury and Keith Miller to Perth to play for them. It was another successful venture as West Perth won the 1971 premiership. The earliest mention of clubs flying players from the country was probably in 1936 when East Perth brought Leo Graham up from Narrogin for one game. This qualified him for the finals and East Perth also won the flag.

Brian Fairclough . . . off to a good start

Brian France and Fred Buttsworth at West Perth; Fred Seinor at South Fremantle; big Laurie Nugent with East Fremantle and ABC commentator Ian Brayshaw with Claremont.

In 1935 Subiaco's Lou Daily and Swans' George Krepp tied for the Sandover Medal, both wore number 25.

'Spoon favourites

WHEN Subiaco downed the Royals last Saturday the Demons became favourites for the wooden spoon. This unwanted title has fallen to Perth only once before in the post-war era (since 1945). That was in 1981 under coach Allan Joyce.

It may have hurt Perth supporters to see that former Demons top scored for other teams. Barry Kimberley kicked 6.2 for Swans, Rob Wiley 4.0 for Richmond and Doug Simms 4.1 for West Perth.

Bulldog score

LEAGUE leaders South Fremantle have been a free-scoring side in recent years, therefore I had to go back 70 games to find a lower score than their 10.15 (75) that they kicked against Swans on Saturday. On June 21, 1980 they scored only 8.13, but still won easily over Claremont who kicked 3.4. They also scored 10.15 last year when they went down to West Perth.

Number 25

BIG Stephen Michael has certainly made that number 25 guernsey at South Fremantle famous. I have seen a few other handy footballers with a big 25 on their backs: Graham Moss of Claremont; Graham Farmer, with East Perth; Brian Sarre of Subiaco;

I wonder!

FROM facts to a hypothetical question. This week the two Easts meet with fourth place the prize. Who would win and how many people would turn up if it was played under a club of origin basis with both teams fielding their interstate players? Put Brian Peake, Ken Judge, Jim Sewell, Andrew Purser, Alan Reid and Tony Buhagiar in the Sharks line-up and Gary Malarkey, Ross Glendinning, Phil Kelly, Kevin Bryant, Wayne Otway and Steven Curtis in the Royals side and what a game it would be.

Brown fifth

CLINT Brown became the fifth Subiaco player to kick 10 goals or more in a match. Mick Malone, the Lions' reserves coach was the last to do it when he kicked 11 against East Fremantle in 1978.

MY TRIBUTE

Now that all the cheering and the media build-up has died down, I would like to offer my personal congratulations to Stephen Michael on his 200th game. And behind every successful man there is a woman — and his wife Christine has done a marvellous job. Although Stephen did not celebrate his milestone with a victory, it was still a great achievement. As for all those yahoos who chanted "Michael is a fairy" as he left the ground at half-time I don't think I have seen or heard a worse performance towards one of the game's champions in all my life. It was disgusting. Bob Cribb falls into the same category for the comments he made on 6PR.

JOE'S GAME

I MUST apologise to former South star Joe McKay. Last week I said Joe was making a comeback to football with Medina — when, in fact, he is playing with old team mate Tony Morley at Kwinana. He played his first game at full forward on Sunday.

TYPICAL VICS

AS USUAL all the excuses under the sun have been flowing across the Nullarbor about why WA can choose only one player from each of the 12 Victorian clubs for the game against the VFL on Tuesday, July 12. The VFL, who could now finish third in the Australian Championships, are still using their muscle and laying down the laws. It is about time the WAFL stood up to them, particularly as a win in this game will give us the crown as the Australian champions.

UMPIRE QUERY

I DON'T like to criticise umpires, but what has happened to the relayed free kick rule? It seems as though after a player kicks the ball he is fair game. On top of this, the ball used to be brought back to the centre when there was a bad bounce. Remember John Fuhrmann. Every time there was a bad bounce he would blow his whistle and have another go. In this day and age, where winning the ball out of the middle is so important, I think it is essential to bring the ball back after a bad bounce.

WELL DONE, CLINT

THIS week's free haricut goes to Subiaco full forward Clinton Brown for his superb effort in kicking 10 goals for his side against East Perth. He is an outstanding young prospect and could be an important player at Subiaco in the years to come.

BOUCHER FACED $2000 FINE

CHAMPION Swan Districts ruckman Ron Boucher faced a $2000 fine from his own club this week because he was reported last Saturday and had to appear before the Tribunal.

The fine was waived by Swans because the club in this case did not consider Boucher guilty.

However the big ruckman went to the Tribunal to face the umpires and believing that he would be fined by his own club.

"Toddy told me that I would be fined $2,000 the next time I was reported and he has done it before so I expected to be fined again," Boucher said.

There is no doubt in my mind that Boucher, the toughest footballer in this State, is getting a rough deal and at a time when he is playing the best and most consistent football of his career.

Boucher finished up in trouble again this week after giving his club and the game another excellent and exciting 100-minute contribution last Saturday.

Sure he tangled with Noel Carter and Brad Hardie and Stephen Michael, but that's exactly what two thirds of the day's biggest crowd went along to see.

I have said in the past that the game here needs footballers like Ron Boucher and John Duckworth and it seems to me that every effort is being made to force them out of football.

There is no way Boucher's game or style of play can be altered.

His action in dumping Noel Carter last Saturday was one of restraint.

Two seasons ago Boucher probably would have flattened Carter with an elbow or a fist.

He has learnt now to use controlled aggression and in this case he was sorely provoked by the South Fremantle rover.

Footnote: Swans ruck rover John Fogarty was fined $500 by his club after he was suspended for two weeks by the tribunal last month.

GREAT IDEA

I MUST compliment the organisers of last week's Fremantle to Bassendean train convoy.

South Fremantle supporters did their club proud by turning out in such large numbers.

It was great to see their banners and flags invading the home of the Swans when the trains arrived at the ground.

The promotion did wonders for the atmosphere at the ground . . . it was like a grand final.

I don't know who thought of the idea, but that person did as much as the players towards providing marvellous Saturday afternoon entertainment at Bassendean last week.

One suggestion that I would like to make is that admission into the ground tbe made automatic in future for large groups of spectators.

They should be allowed to pay in advance and come through a separate gate to avoid queing at the turnstiles when they arrive.

UMPIRES ON THE TRACK

WESTERN Australia's Umpires Appointment Board is doing the right thing even if it is making conditions cramped in the Press box these days.

Every umpire in league and reserves is coming under the closest possible scrutiny.

I was talking to Ross Capes last week who had the job of watching over the umpires at Bassendean Oval and he says the umpires of today are under a microscrope each Saturday.

I noticed the board's scrutineer taking copious notes on the reserves game last Saturday and immediately after the game he went straight to the umpires room to point out the mistakes that had been made.

The policy is paying off, because in recent weeks the umpiring at all games has improved greatly.

FLYNN'S FOLLY

This week's Flynn's Folly must go to South Fremantle rover Noel Carter for having the recklessness to put his head into the vice-like hands of big Ron Boucher. Anyone who does that must be keen to get a new head! However, for Carter's courage, he receives a bottle of Hardy's Grand Reserve Brut champagne.

Hard runner

CLAREMONT'S Stephen Malaxos showed the benefit of hard running when he brought up the Tigers' sixth goal against Perth last Saturday. Malaxos brought the ball out of defence with a pass to his team-mate Wayne Blackwell, who sent the football down into attack. After a little bit of sideways action, the ball was finally chipped over to an unattended Claremont player in the forward pocket — yes, that's right. Malaxos was there waiting to finish off his good work.

ANOTHER FIRST

IT'S happened again. Another player has scored his first goal in league football from his first kick. This time it was West Perth's John Gastevich at East Fremantle Oval last Saturday. He kicked his side's first goal of the match when he managed to get his boot to ball while it (the ball) was in flight in the goal square to redirect it through the tall timbers.

WATERSON'S GEM

EAST Fremantle's Colin Waterson won the Town and Country WA goal of the day awarded by Channel 7 commentators for a brilliant piece of football. A team mate delivered the ball high and deep in the forward pocket where Waterson contested possession with Ray Holden. The Shark managed to get his hands to the ball while heading goalward along the boundary line, he then ducked backwards and hooked around his opponent, and though aided by a slight breeze, it was a magnificent goal.

BROTHERLY LOVE

THE ninth goal for Perth was something of a family affair last week — albeit unintentionally. Claremont full back Michael O'Connell kicked the ball out after the Demons had scored a point in the third quarter — and saw his brother, Peter, take the mark. Peter, one of the Demons' top players off a wing in recent weeks, made no mistake with his shot at goal.

YOUNG SOCCEROOS

IT was shades of Wembley Stadium when Perth brought up their third goal against Claremont. Young ruckman Ian Newman had soccered the ball from about 20 metres out when he could not get his hands to it as the Claremont defence descended. But as it bounced towards the open goal it started to show signs of slowing down and being caught by a pursuing Tiger. But in chipped Ross Fitzgerald, who helped the ball over the line with another soccer

OPPORTUNIST

Burley Subiaco forward Brendan McFaull showed just how well he can read the wind at league headquarters with several top goals during the match against East Perth. On one occasion he was caught deep in the forward pocket and on his left foot and the big ruckman appeared to have no chance of registering full points. But he promptly placed the ball on his boot, got the banana kick down to perfection and then watched it sail straight through

A regular column about the Men in White

The East Frem. issue

THE recent confrontation between the Umpires' Association and the WAFL over the East Fremantle situation confirmed the need for better communication between all football groups.

The umpires threatened strike action when East Fremantle officials made public their criticism of the men in white after the controversial derby.

Fortunately, everything has now blown over and it seems as though the issue has been laid to rest.

But it did show that if clubs have got complaints about umpires or umpiring standards, then they should be taken to the WAFL by the correct channels — that is, the directors table.

If the individual clubs are not satisfied after that action, then maybe they could go public.

But by making controversial statements in public about umpires only inflames the situation.

The umpires do not have many avenues to defend themselves and talking of strike action was seen as their last resort in an attempt to let the public know that they, too, are entitled to an opinion.

MILESTONE MEN

SEVERAL milestones are coming up for WAFL umpires.

The big one comes up this Saturday for goal umpire Max Hale who breaks the long-standing record of the late Bill Carter.

Max will wave the flags in his 229th game, passing Carter's record that was set when he retired in 1974.

Max, a fit 50-year-old, took up umpiring in 1968 and has done four State matches and two grand finals.

Field umpire Mike Ball, who has certainly having his best season with a State game to his credit, reaches his 100th senior game this week.

Ball, 27, has been on the WAFL panel for 10 years and his 100-game milestone is the result of a lot of hard work and improvement in recent years.

Goal umpire Les Leicester also reaches the century mark.

He joined the panel in 1975 and has been waving the flags consistently since then.

STATE GAME

WHO will be WA's umpire in the forthcoming State game against Victoria?

That's the question being debated in football circles at present.

Mike Ball obviously has the front running after his good effort in the SA game; but maybe the Umpires' Appointment Board might give another young umpire a similar opportunity of big-time games.

David Rowe falls into that category and his umpiring has been consistent enough this year to warrant a chance.

But then, experienced umpires like John Morris, Bob Phillips, Ron Buckey and last year's top umpire, Darryle Gillies — now back in the top eight — all come into contention.

NEW UMPIRE

CONGRATS to Phil Nolan on making his league debut as a boundary umpire.

Phil has been on the panel for a couple of years now and earned his league chance in the Claremont-Perth match last Saturday.

Causes of muscle injury

The causes of sports injury can generally be grouped into three categories,

1. DIRECT (EXTERNAL) causes
2. INDIRECT (INTERNAL) causes
3. Overuse of a body part such as a muscle or a joint.

1. DIRECT CAUSES OF MUSCLE INJURY.

This is generally by an external blow to the muscle by a knee or a boot causing rupture of the small blood vessels in the muscle giving a "cork" or bruise (contusion) in the muscle. As well as bleeding into the muscle substance there results an accompanying inflammatory reaction which contributes to further swelling of the muscle

2. INDIRECT CAUSES OF MUSCLE INJURY.

Here muscle tears are the result of sudden overload, it involves:

a. Sudden unexpected overstretching of i) a trained (conditioned) but tight muscle or ii) an untrained (unconditioned) muscle. e.g. Often the hamstring group of muscles at the back of the thigh tear when a player kicks out long and really follows through with a sudden bending over action to pick the ball up off the ground.

b. Faulty Technique — eg. when running have an over striding action.

Causes of Tight Muscles

Causes of Tight Muscles

a. The muscle soon becomes tight because it is not specifically trained enough for the action required of it.

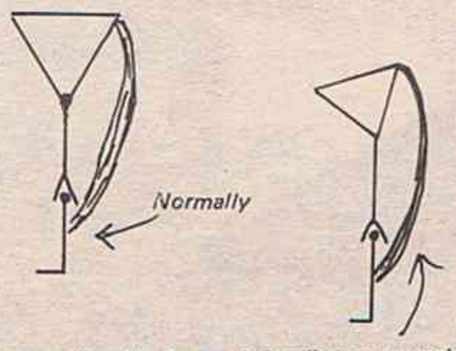
b. The muscle has been injured but has not been rehabilitated correctly and has not regained its elasticity.

c. The muscle fatigues easily as players out of condition generally eg. late preparation pre season.

d. Some individuals are just born with tight muscles.

e. Incorrect training, causing muscle imbalance, eg. overbuild up the front thigh muscles called The "Quads" and this results in the back of the thigh muscles, "the hamstrings" to become tight.

f. Posture — some people have a pelvis that tilts forward increasing the distance between the muscle attachment.

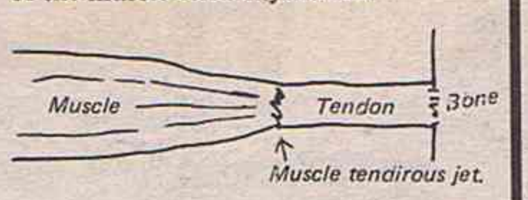


When pelvis tilts forward the distance muscle has to span increases and it becomes tight.

g. The antagonist muscle does not relax. Muscles work in pairs. While the active muscle is contracting its opponent muscle is relaxing.

eg. When the Quads at the front of the thigh are contracting the hamstrings at the back are relaxing. If a player is unduly anxious unfit or fatigued, this co-ordination between a muscle and its opponent (the antagonist) becomes faulty. Without good antagonist relaxation the contracting muscle is faced with more resistance than expected, and can tear.

Sometimes the overload has nothing to do with muscles being tired or not co-ordinating but the force of contraction is too violent. eg. Foot kicks the ground or kick a heavy ball too hard. Muscles usually tear at the weak point of the muscle-tendon junction.



3. OVERUSE CAUSES

Either the muscle is trained for the exercise but the activity goes on for too long, or the muscle is untrained for the action. This results in:

1. muscle cramp or stiffness.
2. tight swollen muscle compartments from congestion of blood and fluid in them.

HARD YAKKA

Swan Districts would stop at nothing to get hold of the ball in the big match against South Fremantle at Bassendean Oval last week – and one man who set the standard for desire was ruck rover Bill Skwirowski.

He didn't even let size interfere with his passion for the football.

In this contest with big South Fremantle ruckman David Rawlinwon, Skwirowski climbed up the back of his taller opponent in an attempt to mark the ball, but he missed it and took a tumble.

However, in true Swans fashion he bounced to his feet as soon as he hit the deck and was after the ball again.

For he effort he wins this week's Hard Yakka award and picks up a pair of fabulous Rigs trousers or new rugged Brut jeans.

NOLLA ISSUE A THREAT

NOLLAMARA are knocking on the door of the final five after their narrow win last week.

North Beach, although leading by four goals at three-quarter time could not stop the Nolla Roos in an action packed final 25 minutes.

The losses for North Beach and Old Wesley could prove costly with only seven games remaining.

The Old Boys have suffered five successive losses and have slumped to eighth.

Wembley were less than impressive against Collegians, but still managed to regain third spot, tipping out Trinity Boomers.

Old Scotch's inaccuracy almost cost them the four points that keeps them in fifth.

Old Wesley have a chance to gain their fourth win at the expense of Maylands, who scrapped up one of the lowest scores booted in 'A' grade for years.

A win for Old Wesley may keep the dim finals hopes alive.

The Wembley-Old Scotch game could go either way as both teams are having a lean run.

It should be a desperate game and could be decided by the round-the-ground strength of ruckmen Ian Moustaka (O.S.) and Wembley's Kevin Kosovich.

Both teams are having their leanest season for a number of years, and it is still possible for either to miss the finals.

Mt Lawley's hold on top should be further consolidated with a victory over Collegians.

The Hawks, in their 21st anniversary year, are doing everything right while Collegians cannot get a break, having their last win five starts ago.

Trinity-Aquinas, with an eye still on third spot, have a chance to put North Beach out of the race for fifth.

Both teams have played good football against each other with less than a goal separating them last time.

Norths are keen to reverse the result as they could slip into the five if Old Scotch and Nollamara fail.

University will have a real pressure game against Nollamara.

Uni can still gain top spot and Nollamara will be fighting for their football life to make their first finals appearance for four seasons. Uni always seem a four to five goal better team on their home ground.

B GRADE

Scarborough face a real test of strength from the vastly improved City Beach team.

Sitting safely in fourth, the Allstars can still move up high if Bayswater fail against an out-of-form Morley.

Scarborough are emerging as one of the strongest clubs outside 'A' and like their counterpart (Mt Lawley) in the top grade are doing everything right both on and off the field.

The wide City Beach oval should suit their fleet of small men and mobile rucking division.

North Fremantle should retain their fifth spot by accounting for Dave Whitehead's MHWP.

The loser of the Uni No. 2 and Floreat-Marist clash could be finished as a finals contender. C.B.C. should maintain their form and gain their eighth successive win.

C GRADE

Hellenic could move into the five if Forrestfield drop an important game against Mt Lawley No. 2.

Gary Martin, Hellenics coach, has worked hard to achieve success and realises the importance of the game.

Innaloo should defeat the luckless Hamersley to still keep some chance of a finals place.

WAIT (Ken Bell coach) and Whitfords battle to decide second. Both clubs are achieving their best success for a number of seasons.

DICK MANNING (Carlisle 'C' playing coach) reached his 50th amateur game commencing in 1971 playing 8 games for Claremont T.C. Recruited Subiaco where during his five year stint was a member of their 1973 Premiership team. Dick then played for Victoria Park (W.A.F.A.) and Thornlie (S.S.M.F.L.) In 1981 returned to Amateurs as playing coach for Trinity-Aquinas 'A'.

Other Grades

'D': Dianella, sluggish up to half time, over-ran National Bank, with good efforts put in by captain Robbie Townson, Craig Burnett (centre), ruck-rover Gavin Day and backman Rob Kelly and John Fabling.

Commonwealth Bank (seventh) have put pressure on Brentwood, Old Wesley No. 2, Nollamara No. 2, with fourth place at stake.

Nollamara No. 2, fresh from their upset win over Dianella, could not handle Tony Pivac's North Beach No. 2. Bassendean gained valuable percentage with a 28 goal win over Carlisle No. 2.

GRAHAM FITZGERALD (Dianella's 'D'): Non playing coach. Formerly with Morley, playing two seasons (1980-81) and coaching 'B' last year. Played over 200 games with Inglewood-Bayswater (W.A.F.A.) mainly as centreman, winning fourteen best award and awarded life membership.

'E': This is developing into a tight competition with only one game separating Uni No. 3 (third) and seventh placed Collegians No. 2.

'F': Koondoola moved to the top of the ladder with a last half run-away win against Keith London's young Coolbinia-Yokine, who were restricted to 1.2 after half time. Koondoola have been well served by centreman Kevin May, Charlie Kersley (half-back), wingman Mick Quigley, and versatile Ian and Colin Brown.

Coolbinia's better players over recent starts include captain Kevin Andrews, wingman Steve Morris, James Spasich (ruck) and Tony Zimbulis (ruck-rover).

'G': Who can stop the Applecross "Numbats"? Under coach Peter Jones they are the only undefeated team in amateurs and a clear three games ahead of second placed Bullcreek. John 23rd and Melville struggle for fifth spot behind Robbs Jetty (who ended Edgewaters finals hopes with a good 42 point win) and Uni No. 3.

'I': RAAF, with in-form players Gary Wild (centre-half-back), mobile players Glen Morey, Kim Gaskeel and centreman Suey Millar are making a belated effort for the five. A.I.C.A. No. 2 are putting in good performances after a slow start to the season.

'J': ANZ are running hot with seven successive wins and grade leaders Girrawheen "Hedgehogs" were their latest victims in a one sided game.

Lynwood-Ferndale show the depth in their young club heading both 'E' and 'K' grades. Swanbourne 'K' continue to give joy to their supporters with wins that their senior team cannot seem to achieve.

COLTS 'C': Innaloo are proving once again that they are traditional finals contenders heading the table with big improvers Whitfords. WAIT and Hellenic are not far behind. Only two games separate 6th team Dianella and 11th team Carlisle No. 2.

UMPIRES OFFICIALS

All teams especially 'A' and 'B' are requested and expected to appoint a responsible official to look after facilities, for all umpires. Clubs failing to do so could incur penalties.

BUNBURY BOOMING

WITH 53 teams competing in six grades, the Bunbury and Districts Junior Football Association is enjoying a current healthy boom.

There are two 10s grades, Red with eight teams and Blue with nine, two 12s divisions both consisting of eight sides, a 14s grade with 12 teams and a 16s with eight.

The Association is now half way through their season with just six fixtures remianing — the grand final date is August 27.

Ironically, on top of every grade ladder sits a team unbeaten at this stage.

In the 10s Red it's Crosslands who haven't faltered as yet with Marist White leading the 10s Blue division without a loss.

Marist dominate the 12s competition at present with their Blue side heading the Red ladder and their White team unbeaten in the Blue sector.

Collie and South Bunbury White are both undefeated in the 14s grade but Collie are looking good with a superior percentage of over 200%.

arey Park are leading the 16s table without a blemish at present.

Games are played Saturdays and Bunbury fixtures are all conducted at the massive Hay Park complex which houses five football ovals and eight changerooms.

Certain clubs in the Association cater for teams that compete under different names than their parent club.

This has always been the case and is because of the immense size of the districts which cover these areas.

Some are:

BOYANUP—CAPEL— DARDANUP (incorporating Cardinals) — green and gold;

HARVEY—BRUNSWICK (incorporating Police Boys) — maroon and gold;

SOUTH BUNBURY (incorporating Bulldogs) — Black and gold;

CAREY PARK (incorporating Crosslands, Picton/Sandridge Park, Withers and Kelly Park) — red and navy blue; EATON—AUSTRALIND — brown and gold; MARIST — blue and white:

COLLIE —red, white and black;

MINES ROVERS — blue and gold and

FIVE INTO FOUR

An interesting situation is developing in the 17s competition of the Perth Junior Council.

With seven games remaining, the top five positions are still up for grabs.

Canning moved to the top of the ladder with 36 points last Sunday when they beat winless East Vic Park 18.9 to 3.3. .

Second placed Carlisle (34) drew their match with fifth placed Kensington (18), 12.9 to 11.15, to lose top spot while Queens Park, fourth with 20 points, closed the gap on third placed Manning (28) with a 10.12 to 5.9 victory over them.

DEMON ADVISOR

PERTH Junior Council last week announced the appointment of their new Umpires Advisor after the vacancy became available mid-way through this season.

Their new replacement is Cyril Lavell, a man with top credentials and one who has already pleased Perth officials with his manner.

FIRST WIN

Wooden spooners Bullsbrook won their first Hills Association 16s game last Sunday when they trounced second last placed Parkerville by a surprise margin, 17.16 to 1.2.

SHOWDOWN COMING

Trinity proved too strong against Aquinas last Saturday winning 11.10 to 7.13 in a clash between two unbeaten fancied sides in the Alcock Cup competition.

Guildford Grammar beat Scotch 14.12 to 8.13 to also remain unbeaten — the wo leaders now meet in a mid-week fixture next Wednesday (July 6), at Guildford Grammar.

Hale (16.13 downed Christchurch (7.6— in the other game last weekend.

Important meeting in Karratha

This Saturday (July 2) the WAFL is conducting a vital summit at Karratha with every major football body from the North-West attending to determine the future of th the game within the area.

The talks are to be held in conjunction with the B.P. Championships in Karratha and will include delegates from Exmouth, Carnarvon, Port Hedland, Tom Price, Parraburdoo, Newman, Broome, Kununurra and the local commune.

Although discussion will be centred around senior football, the junior bodies will be directly concerned with the presence of WAFL's Football Development Administrator, Ross Davis.

DEMONS AND SHARKS IN BIG WINS

PERTH and East Fremantle scored big wins in the R and I Little League on the weekend.

Firstly East Fremantle kicked 5.3 while West Perth could muster just 0.1. Brian Sojan and Alan Jenkinson each kicked two goals while Peter Rowan kicked the other. Best players for West Perth were John Wilson, David Farranto and Robert Woods.

Carl Glenny and Bradley Smith each kicked two goals for Perth to send them on the way to 4.4 while Claremont kicked 2.3. Troy Helwig also played well for Perth while Carl Whittaker (one goal), Shaun Stevens and Symon Grainger (one goal) all played well for the Tigers.

In a low scoring game Subiaco kicked 1.4 to beat East Perth 0.3. John Beeck, Paul Byrne (one goal) and David Driesen did best for the young Lions while Jim Stewart, Joe Lazarov and Michael Madafferi played solidly for East Perth.

In a thriller South Fremantle hung on to win by one point against Swans — 1.2 to 1.1

Joe Cappelutti, Vernon Cuggi (one goal) and Peter Brooks played well for South while Paul Winmar, Carl Mortimer (one goal) and Simon Farnell did best for Swans.

Perth were represented by Maddington, Claremont (Newman), Subiaco (Sorrento-Duncraig), East Perth (Warren), East Fremantle (Jurien), West Perth (Tuart Hill), South Fremantle (Coolbellup) and Swan Districts (Carey Park).

This week Canning will represent Perth, Midvale (Swan Districts), Hilton (South Fremantle), Dalkeith-Nedlands (Claremont), Noranda (East Perth), Riverton (East Fremantle), Koondoola (Subiaco) and Osborne Park (West Perth).

Hawks hold Collie to draw

Augusta-Margaret River put up a strong performance to hold Collie to an exciting draw in the South West National Football League on Sunday.

With little separating the teams all day a draw looked a likely result and when the final siren sounded the scores were locked together at 16.14 apiece.

Mines Rovers returned to their best and crushed Busselton 23.14 to 4.10.

At three quarter time the Magpies had just nine points on the board, while Mines had amassed 20.9.

The match also saw the return to form of centre-half-forward Wayne Coles who kicked six goals, while Ron White, playing his first league match for some time booted five goals.

Carey Park took charge in the last half of their game against Donnybrook and ran out winners 21.20 to 12.20. Full forward Kernet Thorne kicked six goals and Ricky Harris finished with five goals for Carey Park while Donnybrook forward Ross Piggot kicked four goals.

In the Bunbury derby Bunbury were always in charge of the situation against South Bunbury in one of the tamest derbies for a long time.

Alf Shiosaki gave a best on ground performance to steer Bunbury to the 20.14 — 13.8 victory.

David Gaunt and Wayne Coles are now joint leaders, with 45 goals, in the Prince of Wales Goalkicker of the year. Kernet Thorne is next with 40.

Young East Perth player Gary Bock, playing on permits with Boyanup-Capel-Dardanup is the joint leader with Ricky Harris in the Highway Hotel best under-19 player. Both players are on six votes.

Bock was only allowed six permits and as only one vote is cast at one game he has done exceptionally well. Collie player Paul Carpenter is third with four votes.

Last week's round of fixtures was the first time this season that there were no umpires reports in any of the five league, reserves or colts matches.

DENMARK IMPROVE

Denmark almost won their first game of the season in the Southern Districts National Football League on the weekend.

The Magpies have been the chopping block of the competition this year, but they were unlucky to lose to South Mt Barker on Sunday.

They led all day, only to be beaten in the dying stages of the game, to go down by 12 points.

Railways, without coach David Holt, who was transferred to Port Hedland, were no match for the strong North Albany. Holt's position was taken over by his brother Barry.

Royals put up a solid effort against the competition trendsetters North Mt Barker in going down by 27 points in a high standard match.

COLLIE PLEA FOR FINALS

The two Collie football clubs and football followers in the town are up in arms.

The small mining town has two teams at the top of the ladder in the South West National Football League, but their plea to have final round matches played there have fallen on deaf ears.

At a recent delegates meeting a proposal to have a final round game played in the town was rejected.

The Collie Shire Council has written a letter of protest to the SWNFL. The Collie Mail newspaper has invited people to express their disappointment through a coupon which will be forwarded to the next delegates meeting and petitions are circulating through the town.

One shire councillor said that in the past the excuse had been used that the Collie Recreation Ground could not handle a final round crowd.

However, this had been dispelled because 9,000 people turned out to see a pre-season game between North Melbourne and Swan Districts earlier this year.

With Mines Rovers sitting on top of the premiership table and Collie in second place, each having lost only one game, the townsfolk feel, and probably justifiably so, that they deserve the right to have a finals match played there.

NORSEMAN LOSE

Former Goldfields Football League team, Norseman, which switched the South East Football League this season lost their first game of the season on Sunday.

Norseman have been playing strongly since joining the Esperance based league, but they were beaten by Gibson on Sunday.

Esperance scored a narrow win over Condingup while, in the other game, Ports were untroubled to beat Munglingup.

EAGLES ADVANCE

Kambalda moved a long way towards a permanent position in the top two in the Goldfields Football League with a strong win over the previously second team Mines Rovers on the weekend.

After a close tussle in the first half the Eagles raced away to a comfortable 64 point victory.

Aided by top performances from half forward Kim Anderson and young full forward Peter Purdue, who each kicked six goals, the Eagles re-confirmed that they have the ability to play a strong part in the finals which begin on September 4.

Boulder also showed that they had the ability to be able to defend their title as the top side in the competition which they won last year when they were too strong for top team Railways.

The Tigers have been down on form in the last month but stormed right back into calculations with the impressive 18 point win.

Country team for Alice Springs

PLAYERS from the Central Midlands, North Midlands and Mortlock football leagues will play in an historic match at Alice Springs on July 2.

A 21-man squad of players will fly to Alice Springs to play a match against a combined Central Australian Football League team.

The game was organised by Central Midland Football League secretary Roger Tonkin who said that it would be a bold and exciting move in country football.

He added that the future of country football was important and incentives like interstate trips would provide goals for country players.

The 21-man squad will fly out of Guildford Airport, accompanied by 32 supporters, on their way to the historic match.

The players selected will train at East Fremantle Oval on Friday at 4.30pm. A players tea and guernsey presentation will be held at 7pm and supporters making the trip are invited to attend the function.

The squad: Central Midlands Football League: Gary Delane, Neil Herd, Peter Leeson, Steven Johnston, Robert Dann, Barry Shea.

Mortlock Football League: Phil Mincherton, Kim Bahen, Mark Panizza, Kelvin Jones, Phil King, Murray Siegert, Graham Laidlaw, Peter Smith, Darryl Strathford, Brad Sinclair, Steve Ferguson.

North Midlands Football League: Ron Speldewinde, Ric West, Brad Langford, David Grierson.

BROOKTON SHOCK

Brookton scored a shock win over third team Tammin in the Avon Football Association.

Tammin had previously lost just one game, but they were thrashed by 134 points by the fourth team on Sunday.

Tammin were still in the contest at half time, but a 22 goal second half from Brookton put the result beyond doubt.

The other top teams, Railways and York recorded comfortable victories over Federals and Cunderdin respectively while Quairading proved too strong for the struggling Beverley.

West Pilbara to defend crown

West Pilbara will defend their crown as the premier league in the North West when the BP Pilbara Carnival is played at Karratha this weekend.

With the best four leagues in the far north competing there is certain to be some top class football played over the two days of fixtures.

West Pilbara won the title convincingly last year when they beat Newman in their qualifying match by 70 points and then proved far too superior for the De Grey Football League in the final.

The Fortescue won the game against Newman in the play-off for third place.

The carnival has been going since 1976, although steps to get the inter-league competition into gear were begun by Adrian Marshall in 1973.

It took three years of meetings and preparations before the first match was played, however, it is now the highlight of the football calendar in the north west.

With West Pilbara winning last year it meant that every league had their turn at the top. Because of the fashion in which they won (their closest result was a 14 goal victory) they again appear to be the team to beat.

In the first Carnival in Newman the Fortescue league emerged victorious and they also won in 1978 and 1979. Between their success, Newman won in 1977 and again in 1980.

In 1981 it was the De Grey Football League's turn.

The Sideman trophy for the fairest and best player in the grand final of the carnival last year was won by former East Fremantle player Kim Chatfield (West Pilbara) while the carnival fairest and best Steve Wiseman (De Grey) won the Marshall Medal.

At the completion of the carnival an all stars side is chosen and competition is always keen for a berth in that side.

WAFA REPORT

KIM HAGDORN'S weekly report on the West Australian Football Association competition.

Top teams in slow starts

WAFA officials must have thought their dreams had come true at half time in all games last Sunday.

On a weekend that cried out for suprise results to keep the race for final four places alive, it appeared that upsets would occur.

Mosman Park had held the strong Wanneroo side to just one goal kicking 7-11 themselves. But after some stern words and hefty threats from coach Stuart Hillier, the Roos turned in a disciplined second half to run out comfortable 36 point winners.

Applecross held a 15-point lead at the long interval over top side Osborne Park, but the persistence of the Saints gradually wore the Hawk challenge down to maintain their unbeaten run, with an eight point win.

Osborne Park received great drive from their following division superbly led by Gerard McNeill's ruck work.

He was able to palm the ball to perfection which enabled the pace and ball skills of ruck rover Peter Gianoli, rover Wayne Loxley and the elusive Kim Rich to be put to good use.

POOR SHOW

Mosman Park blew their chances of forcing their way back into the final four race with a poor second half at their home ground, Perrot Reserve.

The Reds had many fine players for the solid first half, but only Jeff Allen, Ian Briggs and vice captain Bob Argoon were effective over four quarters.

South Perth had to pull out all reserves before they could take the vital four points from Southern Port.

Brilliantly led by the high flying Mike Garbin, the Port side gave the Tigers a run they hadn't expected on recent form.

Garbin kicked nine goals from centre-half-forward and received strong support from mid-fielders Len Thorne, Cam Locantro, Paddy Glynn and John Florenca.

Port's prospects of upsetting the Tigers were sadly spoiled by their inability to play constructive football at the crucial stages of the game.

South Perth's roving brothers Vince and Tony Capriotti, Bob Tredrea, Gary Kingston and former Perth wingman Terry Walsh were among their side's best and coach Kerry Coates must be happy with the form of rover Kim Castle at his first run since last year's grand final.

NEW RECRUIT

In what has become an accepted custom in the Tiger camp over recent years, they continued their 11th-hour recruiting drive by gaining the services of former Subiaco half forward Frank Bucknall.

Belmont made sure that they would not finish at the bottom of the table when they withstood a strong challenge from Melville and a solid final term saw the Bombers win by 34 points.

Melville captain Stuart Cole and Steve Borton tried to lift their side to their first win of the year, but they just didn't have the legs in the end.

ACID TEST

Applecross have the chance to prove their premiership potential when they face Wanneroo at Kingsway Reserve on Sunday.

Frank Bucknall

Their form in the past few weeks has seen them emerge as the most dangerous threat to the powers of WAFA football, but they must take four points from one of those sides before they can really be taken seriously.

Sunday should be that day.

After pushing hot favourites Osborne Park to their narrowest result of the season, the time is right for the Hawks to beat the Roos.

South Perth and Osborne Park will boost their percentages at the expense of Mosman Park and Belmont.

Mosman travel to Perth Oval for their encounter with the much improved Tigers, who will not forget the first round loss at the hands of the Reds.

Melville appear set to maintain their run of losses when they play host to Southern Port, who still hope for a miracle to work their way into the top four.

Player of the week

AT half-time in the Southern Port-South Perth game last week, Port looked like upsetting the more favoured Tigers and keeping their final four hopes alive.

But Tiger coach Kerry Coates called for a special effort from one of the most experienced players in WAFA football to lift his charges to a match winning position.

Richard Peel answered his coach's plea and turned in his best half of football for the season to lead South Perth to a sound 20 point victory.

Peel rucked tirelessly for the entire second half, took many strong marks around the ground and provided his smaller running players with opportunities to work the ball to their forwards. Had it not been for Peel's efforts South Perth would not now be safely placed in the four.

The 34-year-old veteran of 69 league games with Perth and Claremont and more than 100 with the Tigers is still a key member of the South Perth plans for 1983 and is Westside's Player of the week.

TIME FOR SUBI TO GET 'DINKUM'

THE time has come for Subiaco to get "fair dinkum" about their destiny in football.

By GARY STOCKS

For too long now they have been content to be the poor relations of West Australian football and now they must do something to ensure they win more matches.

Since 1973, when they won their first premiership in 49 years, they have been diabolical.

Many a coach has suffered from the directors' axe because he could not get the desired results. But surely someone else must accept the blame for the Lions poor performances.

Recently they sacked Peter Daniel and Brian Fairclough stepped into the position. That sacking might have been a mistake -- time will tell that. However, they made their biggest mistake in September last year when they released Ken Armstrong.

Much has been said about Subiaco's past, but they must look to the future.

Their first objective must be to appoint a new coach.

Although they are going to review the coaching situation at the end of the year, they must begin work now.

Looking around, someone like Grant Dorrington, who has a good record with the development of league players, would be an ideal choice.

A few seasons ago Claremont were going badly — and so too were Swan Districts.

But through a continuity of coaches they have been able to rise to football power. Subiaco must also embark on some sort of plan to get themselves up near the top of football in WA.

Dorrington showed with East Perth that he could coach. He took East Perth to the finals in his two seasons as a senior coach when they really did not look good enough to be there.

The Lions also deserve some credit for working their way back into the black. It was not long ago that they were also in deep financial trouble.

However, they must now spend some of their money on recruiting.

They only need three or four players. In the past they could be accused of poor recruiting and they have now learned that they must be more selective.

A ruckman, key forward, key defender and a ruck rover type must be high on their list of priorities. They have a good group of young players within their ranks and a bit of experience in these areas would go a long way towards solving their immediate problems.

However, Claremont and Swans have found that they no longer need to pay for high-priced Victorian recruits to win premierships.

The talent is in their own backyards. And that is the case for the Lions as well.

They must develop their junior and country zones and with the recent acquisition of the entire Wanneroo Shire they should be able to uncover unlimited talent.

Because Wanneroo will eventually provide the club with the bulk of its league footballers, they should look closely at the much talked about move away from League headquarters.

Subiaco Oval has no tradition and that is something Subiaco need to develop. Wanneroo would be the ideal location.

Two more ten goal bounties

IT was an expensive — but enjoyable — Saturday afternoon for joint WAFL major sponsors, Marlboro, last week.

When Warren Ralph and Clinton Brown posted goals at the 31-minute mark of the last quarter of their respective matches at Claremont Oval and Subiaco Oval, the company was $200 lighter.

As part of Marlboro's Golden Boot award in Westside Football (see page ?? for our Top Ten line-up of goalkickers) a bonus of $100 is paid to players kicking a double-figure tally.

Both Ralph and Brown had to wait till the final siren was whistling in the wind before they registered their 10th goals.

Ralph notched his sixth $100 bonus from Marlboro since the scheme started three seasons ago. His 10.3 against Perth was his third double-figure tally for this season, coming after tallies of 11.6 (against West Perth) on April 23 and 10.4 (against Swan Districts) on May 2 21.

He worked hard for his goals against Perth on Saturday, earning most of them himself with strong marks and hard, fast leading.

For Brown, the Subiaco full-forward, it was his first double-figure tally since making his league debut back in 1980.

Brown has been used regularly as a full-forward this season after previously being thrown into a variety of roles at Subiaco.

He showed a glimpse of his potential in front of goals on March 21 when he booted eight majors against East Fremantle. Before that effort his best goal scoring feats had been two five-goal hauls.

POST MARK FOR 125 YEARS OF FOOTY

THE 125th Anniversary of Australian Rules Football will be celebrated this July — and to honor the occasion, Australia Post will publish a special commemorative Post Mark.

And a special envelope with a color log is being produced by the VFL to be used with the Post Mark.

The envelope and Post Mark will be on sale to the public.

The official date of the Anniversary is July 10 and there are four matches that week which will become official 125th Anniversary Celebration matches.

These are: July 10, Port Melbourne v Preston (Port Melbourne); July 12, WA v Victoria (Perth); July 16, Melbourne v Geelong (MCG); July 17, VCFL v Victorian Amateur Football Association (venue to be arranged, possibly Ballarat).

As both Melbourne and Geelong were amongst the first Australian Rules Football Clubs to be formed, it is appropriate that they are meeting during the commemorative week.

A special sub-committee has been formed and through this Committee the commemorative postal arrangements and match celebrations have been arranged.

The sub-committee is being aided by Australia Post and with historical and philatelic advice by Mr Red Harcourt and Mr Red Bodin.

The new commemorative Post Mark.

The special envelope will have a color logo with the map of Australia and football players flying for a mark on it.

The Australia Post Mark has a football, goal posts and a map of Australia.

It is certain to prove very popular with stamp collectors and football supporters.

Marshall again

SWAN Districts forward Ken Marshall, who looked like ending his league career after being dropped to the reserves a month ago, revealed that he would still be a valuable player for Swan Districts when he kicked 10 goals last week. He also kicked 10 goals in his previous appearance in the reserves and it may only be a matter of time before he gets another crack in the league side. However, his biggest problem is the form of young Paul Werner.

Big V won't be Aussie champs

VICTORIA can forget the Australian championships.

We must beat Western Australia on July 12 by around 14 goals to clinch 1983 championship honors, but in my opinion, the Big V will be lucky to win the game at all.

Our disastrous showing in the first match against South Australia highlights the problems our selectors have in picking a team capable of knocking off the pride of the west.

Even with unlimited selection powers, I cannot see Victoria trekking to Perth and playing at their best. A 14-goal win seems an impossibility.

I have selected two teams for this State of Origin clash, and believe the WA guys may have even more depth than our own Victorians.

I didn't include any current West Australian men in reality it's certain more than half will come from Perth – but it does highlight the remarkable depth of players in the VFL who originally came from WA.

INTERSTATE

Of the top 40-50 players in Melbourne, half are from interstate.

Of the best 15 home-grown Victorians, about seven or eight are in the very experienced category - Bernie Quinlan, Michael Tuck, Garry Wilson, Leigh Matthews, Wayne Schimmelbush, David Dench, Garry Dempsey and Keith Greig.

I'M not criticising our Victorian talent, merely highlighting the importance clubs have placed on interstate imports.

Melbourne has the best competition in the country and should be the mecca of the game. These State of Origin clashes to highlight the improved fortunes and confidence of interstate sides such as South Australia and Western Australia.

Former top VFL umpire HARRY BEITZEL, now a leading critic both on radio and newspaper in Melbourne had some interesting thoughts in his regular column in Victoria's Sunday Observer last weekend.

LAST WEEKEND'S TOP PERFORMER

Last year Wayne Blackwell worked his way into the State team as a centreman. And now he has shown his versatility by proving to be one of the top ruck rovers in the competition. Against Perth last week he was in scintillating form and when the Tigers needed something special from the brilliant Blackwell he produced it and gave them badly needed drive around the ground. Perhaps his greatest asset is his courage and he never stops trying.

WESTSIDE WINNERS

S. Fremantle v Claremont

South Fremantle obviously don't like train rides. They are at home this week and will show the Tigers that last week's form was wrong.

BOB CRIBB
Westside Football

East Perth v E. Fremantle

The Royals, out for revenge, will weigh in with a good catch and send the Sharks reeling.

KEN McAULLAY

Subiaco v West Perth

Now that Subiaco know what it's like to win a game they will chalk up four more points against West Perth.

FRED WOODS
Westside Football

Perth v Swans

Swans were built up to a psychological peak last week . . . and now the Demons can give them a devil of a time and life will be hell for the black and whites.

ALAN EAST
Western Mail

Best in the West

As the final siren sounded at Subiaco Oval last Saturday in the game between East Perth and Subiaco, the die-hard Subiaco supporters in the members stand were ecstatic.

Looking from the media box at the rear of the stand, I noticed they all were facing the media and not the oval.

It then dawned on me why — they were showing their delight at winning to that avid Royal supporter John K. Watts.

Wattsie just smiled and waved in his usual good humoured approach to being a football critic.

It just confirmed to me what I have believed for a long time – John Watts is the best promoter of our game in Western Australia.

This personality makes him unique in a sporting environment where most people would rather 'put you down'.

He has a great sense of humour and never 'slates' anyone personally, but creates great promotion by stimulating people to talk about him and in turn Australian football.

J. K. Watts a great asset

The easy-going humourous Watts that the football world has grown to know, has another side to his personality that the players at East Perth witnessed during last season.

I asked John to address the players about winning and success.

His talk was most impressive and a completely different person was observed.

John Watts is an extremely smart person who is a most professional business man, and his talents should be used to a far greater extent by the WAFL.

John's ideas and suggestions to promote Australian football need to be harnessed by the WAFL, as men with his outstanding promotional personality are hard to find.

CIG CUP

LAST week I watched a qualifying game in the C.I.G. Cup for high school boys from years 8, 9 and 10.

This competition is open to all schools, government and private.

The top teams will compete for a championship cup that will be played before the Victorian v Western Australia game on July 12.

The game I saw between Warwick High School (coached by former East Fremantle player Terry Shorthill) and Craigie High School was of an excellent standard. Boys from both schools showed excellent skills and great attitude, with Warwick finally winning.

This competition is a great innovation for the promotion of our game in schools, and special praise should be given to Ross Davis, the Football Development Officer at the WAFL for organising the series.

FOOTNOTE: Ross, what about organising a similar competition for all primary schools — it would be an outstanding success.

Confusing

DURING the Subiaco-East Perth game, Royals ruckman Craig Edwards collided with Lions defender Ray Reeves.

Reeves seemed to be concussed and central umpire Darryl Gillies, who was within 20 metres of the incident, awarded a free kick for a high tackle.

The amazing thing out of this incident that is hard for players, coaches, spectators and media to understand was that the emergency umpire ran over at the next

He was sitting further from the incident than the central umpire and was not involved in the play.

It is unbelievable that an off-field umpire can make decisions over the two umpires who control the game.

Think again Toddy

I READ with concern John Todd's article in the Daily News last week where he outlined his thoughts on the refusal by a panel of doctors to allow Don Holmes to wear a helmet.

Toddy said that the doctors were out of order by not having a close association with football.

Having known several of the doctors on the panel I would strongly repute Toddy's statement.

And after reading one of the doctors' statements in last week's Westside Football, on why they refused Holmes headgear it is obvious John is speaking from a personal club interest and not on football injuries in general.

Coaching is your speciality John, you are out of your depth when speaking medically against the medical expertise on the doctors panel for the WAFL.

DINNER FOR TWO

THE magnificent dinner for two at the Vegas Hotel goes to John O'Connell.

John is a former great player for Claremont and is one of the real gentlemen of the media. John works for radio 6KY, doing an excellent commentary and has three sons playing league football. He certainly puts a lot into the game.
