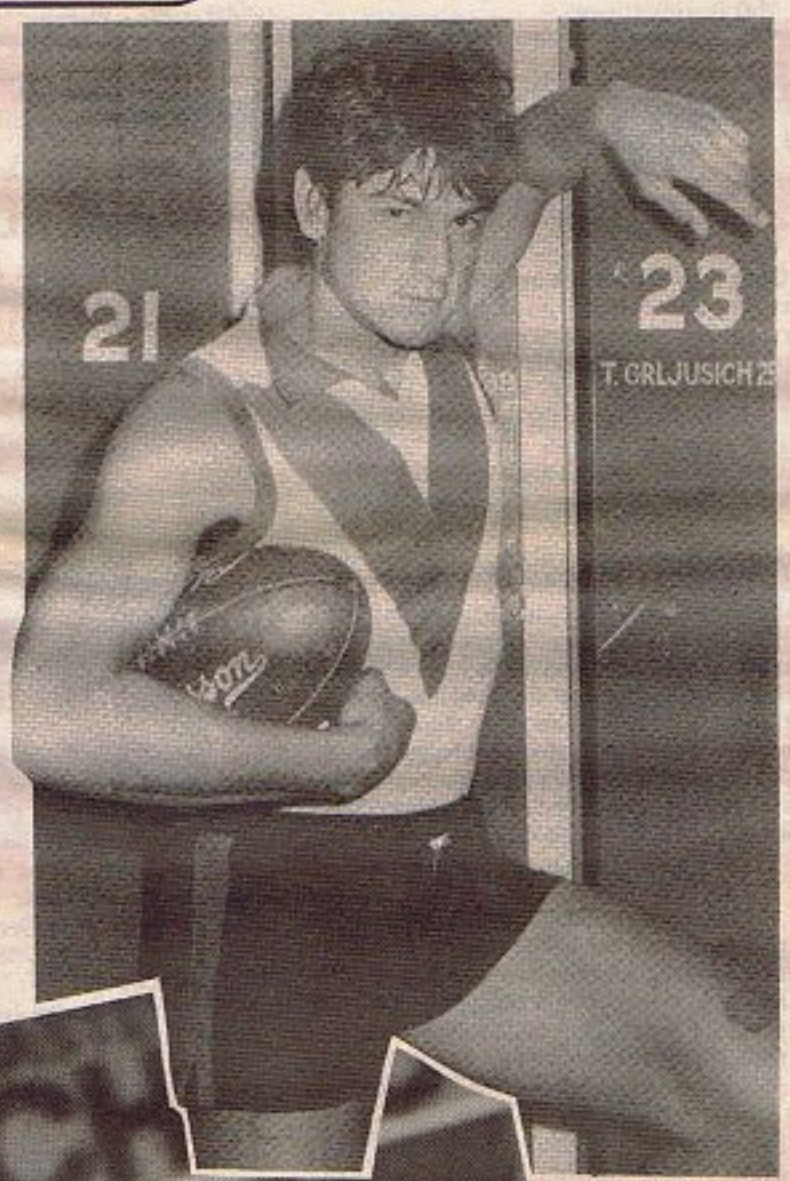
Tough decision pays off

'It was hard to get motivated knowing I would be in the reserves'



Rod Grljusich . . . In traditional surroundings at South Fremantle (above) but now in full flight as a Demon (left).

"IT was probably the hardest decision of my life."

That simple, but honest comment sums up the feelings of one of WA's best young footballers; a player who has had to turn his back on a long family tradition.

Talented midfielder Rod Grljusich had to make the agonising decision to leave the South Fremantle Football Club this year — or face the prospect of going into the football wilderness.

Grljusich's father George was a South Fremantle league player and uncle Tom was an outstanding player, both with South Fremantle and in South Australia. Tom holds the club record of 273 games at South Fremantle and the Grljusich name is steeped in tradition at the Port.

"But I could not come to terms with Don Haddow's coaching philosophies and it was for the best that I left the club," Grljusich said.

"I was relieved that my father and uncle agreed with the decision.

"But I knew deep down they were disappointed that I would not be wearing the red and white South Fremantle guernsey again."

The problems for Grljusich at South Fremantle began last season when Haddow took over as coach from Mal Brown.

Grljusich was frustrated with his playing situation at the club and made himself unavailable for selection late in the season.

"I was told by Don at the start of this season that I would be playing at least the first six games in the reserves no matter what my form was like," Grljusich said.

"I was bitterly disappointed to be told this and it was hard to get motivated knowing I would not be promoted to the league side till possibly late in the first series.

"I had no alternative but to leave the club which was disappointing for me after making some excellent friends."

Grljusich considered joining East Fremantle, the former club of George and Tom's brother, John, but opted for the Demons.

"I enjoyed playing under Mal Brown when he was at South and he believed I could resurrect my career at Perth," he said.

This confidence Brown has shown in Grljusich's ability has given the football career of the 22-year-old student a new lease of life.

"I'm just happy to be playing league football again."

"Apart from my disappointing performance against East Fremantle last week, I've been happy with my form since joining Perth six weeks ago," Grljusich said after last Saturday's match against the Sharks.

"I've enjoyed the opportunity to play in the centre, but that doesn't mean I don't like playing on the wing.

"WHAT THEY SAID"

A round-up of some of this week's football comments

"A lot of footballers are not giving everything they should but they still want to get paid. It must be disappointing for their coaches." Football great Graham (Polly) Farmer on the state of football today.

"I don't admire East Perth with what they did to Greg Brehaut and I hope South Fremantle don't do the same to Don Haddow." Graham Farmer again on 6PR's Football Forum.

"Our leaders have to be challenged; it's certainly disappointing to see our senior players going so poorly." Swan Districts coach John Todd.

"Claremont don't cover quickly enough; some of the players are all duck and no dinner." Grant Dorrington on Channel Seven.

"This is an absolutely sensational game; it has been right from the start." Channel Seven commentator Eric Sarich talking during the Perth-East Fremantle clash.

"Something firm had to be done to make sure the league lists each Saturday had the correct number of players." WAFL football administrator Peter Evans on $5000 worth of fines handed out to clubs for incorrectly listing players in the Football Budget.

"Peter Spencer's football clock has now chimed 13 times, sounding a warning to him that the time has come for him to say goodbye to competitive football." Geoff Christian writing in The West Australian about Peter Spencer's head concussion problems.

"I've slowed down a little bit; I don't go crazy on the field anymore." East Fremantle's Peter Wilson explaining his new on-field attitude.

"It came as a shock and at first I was a bit nervous about the prospect." Rookie ruckman Jim Buckley on his sudden elevation from country football to leading the Swan Districts ruck.

"The specialist has given me another fortnight to recover. But if tests then show that there are still problems. I'm sure he'll suggest I retire." Claremont's Peter Spencer, after another bout of concussion.

"The long, hard struggle continues." East Perth's Gerard McNeill after their eighth consecutive loss.

"Unfortunately, Alex Ishchenko has a couple of big things going against him at the moment — in the form of Shane Cocker and Craig Starcevich, who are playing well. East Perth don't lack in big men at present." East Perth coach Gerard McNeill.

"Mentally and physically we have worked very hard over the last three to four weeks to get that win." South Fremantle coach Don Haddow after his Bulldogs beat East Perth.

"He might have looked like Spud Slater in the first quarter, but after that he looked like the little Aussie bleeder Norman Gunston after his nose collided with Warren Dean." Ken McAullay on Channel Seven about first-game player Jim Buckley.

"He doesn't rant and rave; he knows we're not kids and he expects the players to motivate themselves." West Perth's Colin Barns on the approach from coach John Wynne.

"West Perth are one of the teams I have some animosity towards; our administrators are having hassles and they always give us trouble on the field." Claremont coach Graham Moss.

"We have got very few worries as long as we don't get over-confident." Subiaco ruckman Laurie Keene.

"Football in this State took some giant steps forward; this was the closest I've seen to a VFL-standard game for a long time." Channel Seven critic Grant Dorrington on the West Perth-Claremont game.

"The umpires will be abused whatever system we use." WAFL chief executive John Walker on suggestions that football reverts to the one-umpire system.

"There's a lot of guys who are starting to think they are superstars; but they are being found out right now." East Perth coach Gerard McNeill on the club's current losing form.

"I know the pressure is on. It's always on when you're not winning." South Fremantle coach Don Haddow on the eve of the clash with East Perth.

"I'm sure the VFL could never have imagined the rods they would make for their own back when they introduced the salary cap." 6PR's Wally Foreman.

BOOTING WITH THE BREEZE

DOUBLE TON

PERTH full-forward Mick Rea notched his 100 game milestone last week — but he has another century coming up shortly. Rea's 100-game milestone last week included his 22 with West Perth before switching to the Demons and the four games he played with Melbourne, in the VFL. Now he approaches his century of games in WA with his tally for Perth up to 74 last week.

LES'S LYRICS

6NR commentator and former Claremont and State champion LES MUMME has a different look at football.

Demons show their dash

It seemed the final four
Had already been decided.
That was before the Sharks
With the Demons collided.

Perth have made a move,
They've hit their straps at last.
No longer in the doldrums
Bad times are in the past.

Their confidence is high,
Their pitch-forks at the ready.
To charge up the ladder
And make fourth spot steady.

And praise must go out
To their great veteran pair.
Rob Wiley and Bryan Cousins
Have both done their share

Neither one will shirk it
When the going gets tough.
And Mick Rea will come through
With all the right stuff.

So good on you Perth,
You're back in the chase.
With lots of good players
To help win the race.

DEMON BOY

THE drastic move by Swan Districts of swinging giant ruckman Jim Buckley into their league side last week was a bold gamble. Swans, via their talent-spotting coach John Todd, had snared the 198cm ruckman out from East Perth territory. He is working and living in Manjimup, but playing with Donnybrook, in the strong South West league. East Perth's abundance of big men made it difficult for them to try and keep Buckley — but, in fact, he had earlier escaped from under Perth's recruiting nose. The agricultural scientist has moved around a bit, including a stint in Carnarvon, but he actually started his playing career at Gosnells.

MEDIA AWARDS

THE Football Media Guild has two special awards to make this year courtesy of new sponsors Coventry Group and the Sunday Times. The $250 Coventry award for the best player in the WA side against South Australia went to Rob Wiley and the Sunday Times award of similar value will go to WA's best in the July 8 game against Victoria at Subiaco Oval. The awards will be presented at the Guild's annual presentation night when another major award is announced — the media's footballer of the year, which is co-sponsored by Town and Country WA and Philip Morris.

HOT BOMBERS

ESSENDON, smarting at the slide from power, are fed up with people accusing the club of poor judgement in recruiting highly-priced Collingwood pair Mike Richardson and Geoff Raines. The Magpie duo quit Princes Park because of the 20 per cent pay cuts and they have been dubbed football mercenaries by several critics. There have even been suggestions that the arrival of Richardson and Raines at Essendon, where other players have been forced out to accommodate the pair in the club's salary cap, has brought about Essendon's slump. "There are a lot more highly paid players in league football than Raines and Richardson," said Bombers general manager, Barry Capuano. "We made a decision to get these two players when they became available and we'll live with that decision whether it turns out to be right or wrong."

TOUGH TIMES

THE focus on Kalgoorlie this week as the venue for an official WAFL game brings back memories of some of the halcyon days earlier in this century when football up there was big business. In fact, the Goldfields league was so strong they had an independent seat on the Australian National Football Council — till industrial trouble intervened. In 1919 there was a meeting of the ANFC in Melbourne and due to a rail strike on the trans line, the Goldfields delegate had to come to Perth and travel by boat to Melbourne. He missed the meeting and his seat was declared vacant — remaining so ever since. It was suggested that the WA league, at the time, did nothing to rectify the situation — and were, in fact, quite supportive of it, so much was the rivalry between the Goldfields and Perth-based football.

ROYAL ROUNDUP

NEW Royals coach Gerard McNeill has obviously tried to rebuild the team around him following the departure of Greg Brehaut and then, in sympathy, the walk-out of support staff such as reserves coach Ian McCulloch, physical fitness adviser Bruce Sinclair, reserves team manager Gary Gillespie and selector Jack Ensor. Ken Godwin takes over as reserves team manager, where retired skipper Kevin Bryant has taken on the coaching job. Two of McNeill's school-teaching contemporaries in Graham Pates and Steve Jones have filled other jobs. Pates, a physical education teacher who played colts and reserves with Perth, is the league team's runner and physical fitness adviser, while Jones, a former Subiaco colts player, is in charge of injury rehabilitation.

LOCAL PLAYERS

FITZROY players are adamant that their club won't be folding at the end of this year — as some critics have suggested. Playing for the Lions at present is like playing with a ghost team — no-one is saying where they'll be next season.

But the players took matters into their own hands this year when they raised $100,000 in membership fees. Each player bought one members ticket and sold four others. "It helped bring unity to the team," says former WA player Dean Turner. "It didn't hurt us to go out and ask people to be a member so the club can get back on its feet."

FADE-OUT

SOUTH Fremantle fans must be puzzled about the inability of the Jakovich brothers, Allen and Gary, to consolidate positions in league football. Two season ago Gary came up from the colts to make his league debut, but only notched three games. Last season it was younger brother Allen's turn to graduate from the colts and he also played three games. This season he added another four games to that tally, but he has slipped back a little and is once again in the colts. Allen Jakovich is still aged only 18, so he has plenty of time to come back to seniors again.

DOUBLE HEADER

SUBIACO and East Fremantle fans would certainly look forward to the prospect of the WAFL's first double-header and they hope club officials will agree to the planned move for July 12. The two games scheduled for the second half of the split round either side of the Tuesday State game should attract a bumper crowd at Subiaco Oval. The Claremont-South Fremantle clash would probably have drawn a reasonable crowd, particularly if the Bulldogs continue their improved form against Swan Districts this week. By adding the Sharks-Lions clash (switching it from East Fremantle Oval) would turn the day into a bonanza at League headquarters.

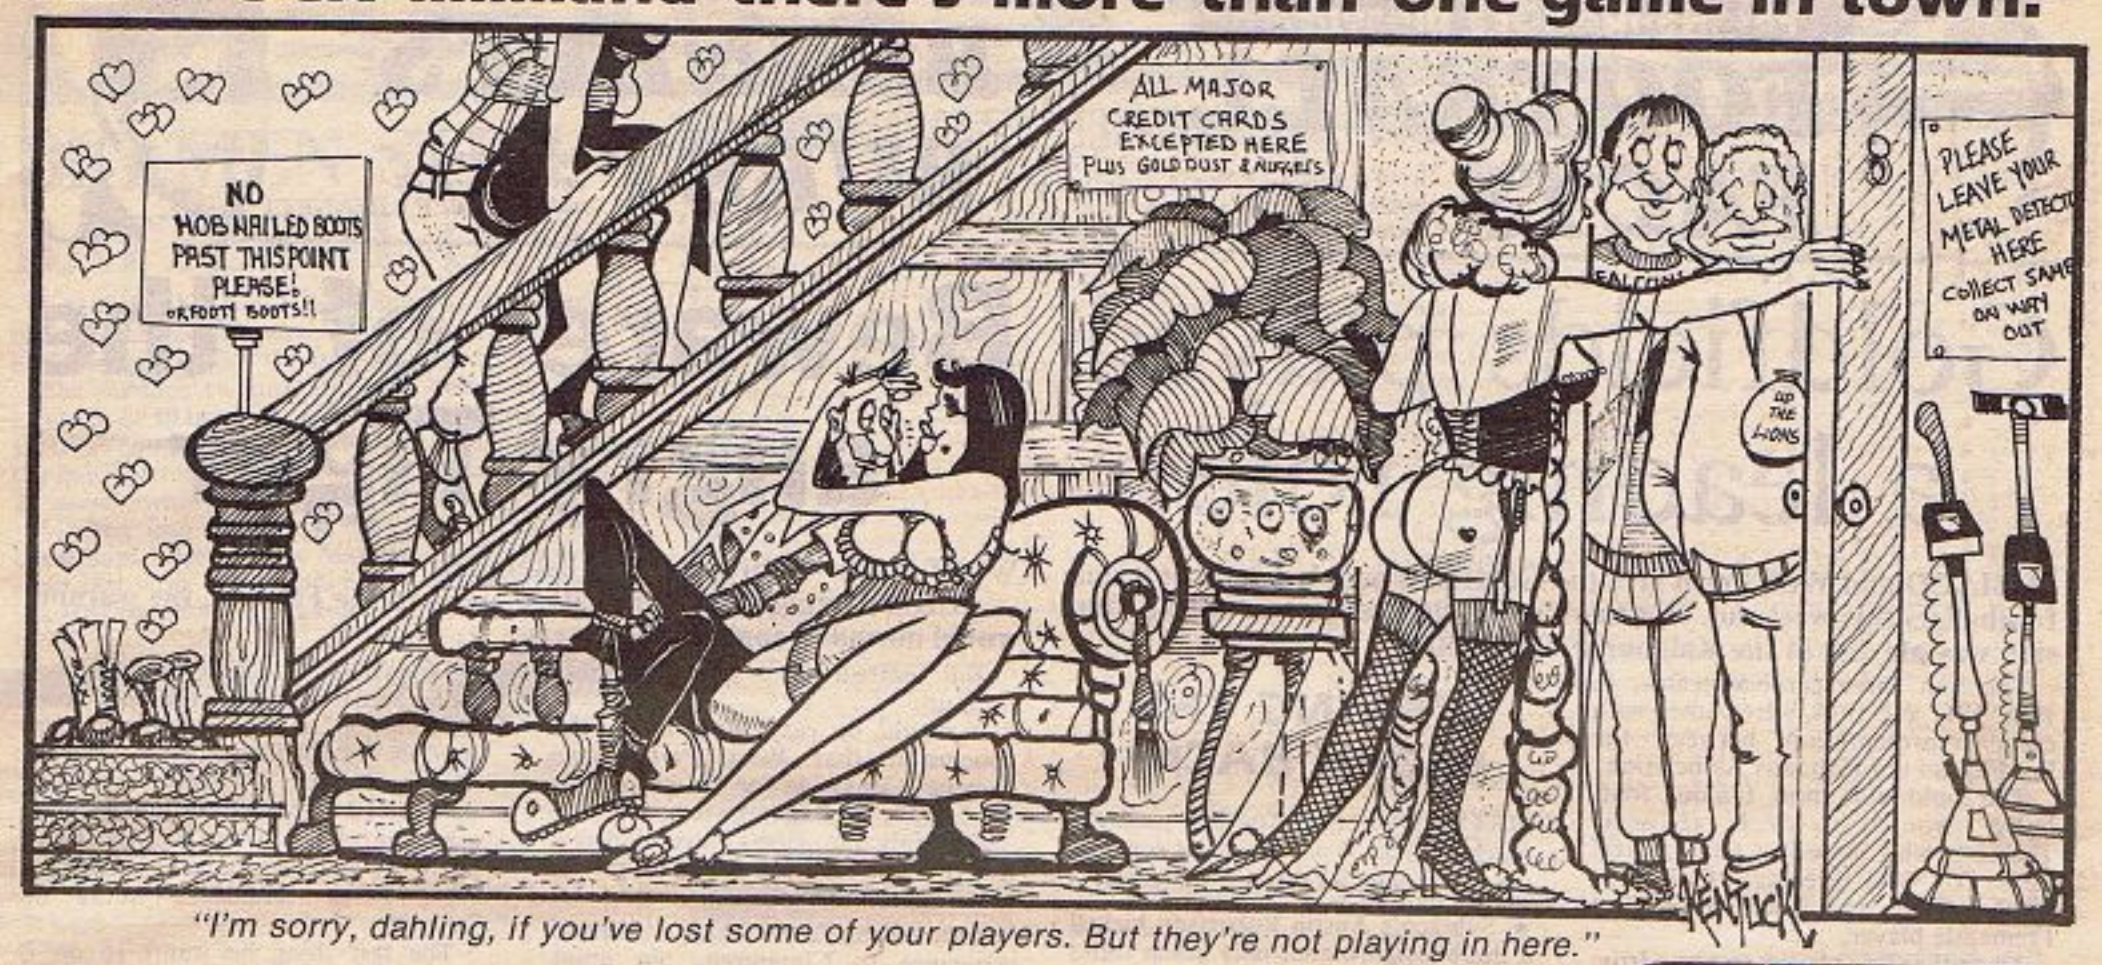
KENTUCK .....and there's more than one game in town.



"I'm sorry, dahling, if you've lost some of your players. But they're not playing in here."

LET'S BE PATIENT

National series should be delayed a while

TWO months ago it looked a certainty that a national league was to be launched next season.

Then again, it was also not long ago that IXL boss and Carlton president John Elliott blew away the cobwebs at VFL House by announcing his moves to form a breakaway national competition.

The plan was pulled down almost as hastily as it was constructed.

Currently there's more back doors opening and closing than there was during Cyclone Tracy, and yet the public is none the wiser about an expanded VFL competition in 1987.

When Elliott's high-flying move came back to earth, it was generally agreed that 1988 — Australia's bicentennial — was a logical time to go national.

I still believe it is ... and the corridors of power in Melbourne are echoing with self-doubts about launching an expanded league next year.

Confusion reigns.

A year's cooling off period is the answer.

The football public have generally been kept in the dark over key issues regarding WA's involvement.

But then again, maybe it's because the WAFL is just waiting to see what strings the VFL pulls.

That may determine which way we jump.

And make no mistake; WA will only enter a national league on the VFL's terms. We really have no other choice because the cards are heavily stacked against us.

It's unfortunate that such a welter of uncertainty hangs over the prospect of a national league because I believe it is affectig the game in WA.

It is biting into the dominance that our vibrant local league should be occupying.

The VFL has waited too long for the scheme to go ahead next year.

Maybe the sponsorship and TV rights are still at delicate stages. And maybe the VFL clubs will get back in the good books with their bank managers if clubs from WA and SA are invited at huge costs.

But what hasn't been considered in all these wheelings and dealings is poor old Joe Public ..... and the players.

Why should they? Why indeed.

Just as WA football was beginning to consolidate after the State disasters of 1985, the stars are not falling — they're simply moving east.

It's fine for the WAFL to voice disappointment about losing the likes of Michael Mitchell, Paul Harding and Peter Sartori.

In effect, the league was asking that top trio to turn their backs on something positive for two-fifths of you know what.

Because that is exactly what has been offered to them. Stay for the good of WA football, was the plaintive plea.

If the league was absolutely fair dinkum they should have instigated measures to sign them up.

Because, aren't the boffins at League headquarters forever telling us that the VFL has assured them an invitation to join would come through the league.

It could have been an astute bit of investing into WA's future.

The proposed sponsors, the leagues, the TV stations and all that sail in them, may be well-pleased about a national league in 1987.

But I believe the football fans may not be as clicked in or clicked on.

South Fremantle are one club in WA yet to be convinced that WA's involvement in a national league would not sign the death warrant for the local competition.

In Melbourne, Hawthorn president Ron Cook has come out against rushing headlong into a national league. Cook, who is also a senior VFL vice-president, has called for a cooling off period over the proposed national league.

He said that a recent meeting of seven clubs, not one favored a national league next year.

Now that's natural enough because some of the weaker VFL clubs could see composite sides from WA and SA as a danger to their long-term health.

Give it another year.

UMP BAITING

WA's umpires must be some of the keenest fans of the excellent TV cover provided of the World Cup soccer.

If our men-in-white reckon they cop it rough, what about some of the whistle-blowers at socer's top level?

Local umpires must sit back in awe watching what the soccer referees are abused by players and suffer vitriolic verbal assaults from coaches.

I wonder how WAFL boss Jahn Walker would react to an opposition coach labelling an umpire a murderer.

The mind boggles.

That's what Uruguay's coach Omar Borrass tagged French referee Joel Quiniou after Jose Batista was sent off.

Goldfields played a leading role

SUBIACO and West Perth give the Goldfields people a look at league footballers this weekend. But there was a time when half of the State side was playing in the Kalgoorlie competition.

The first three carnival teams, in 1908, 1911 and 1914, were chosen with equal representation between the WAFL and the Hannans Association.

The Goldfields most famous footballer would be W.J. (Nipper) Truscott, who played in five carnival teams for WA, three as a Goldfields representative and twice as an East Fremantle player.

Two other fine players to come from Kalgoorlie were 1949 Sandover Medal winner Gordon (Sonny) Maffina and 1952 Sandover Medallist Steve Marsh.

HOW strong was the wind last week?

At two grounds, Lathlain Park and Fremantle Oval, there were more goals scored at the less favoured end.

TURNING THE CLOCK BACK

SIXTEEN years ago football was very much alive in WA. Here are some of the happenings of interest that year.

★ Subiaco's Austin Robertson kicked a double figure goal tally seven times on his way to a qualifying round record of 157 (a feat Bernie Naylor performed six times in 1952).

★ Perth and East Perth — this week's combatants — drew 16,657 spectators to Lathlain Park.

★ Instead of bringing a South Australian umpire to Perth for the WA-VIC game, the VFL agreed to play under top local umpire Ray Scott ending a 17-year era of neutral umpires.

★ Perth 5.10 beat West Perth 5.7 the last time that 10 goals was the total for an entire game.

★ Swan Districts were so pleased with the improvement and spirit in one performance that the committee agreed to pay a winning fee of $15 instead of a losing fee of $5 (Swans won only one game in 1968).

★ South Fremantle full-forward John Gerovich, a veteran of 219 games, retired and his club president Frank Harrison said: "The game is losing one of its greatest box office attractions." The high-leaping forward headed the goalkicking list three times — 1956, 60 and 61.

★ East Fremantle recruited South Adelaide's Brian 'Whale' Roberts. The 6ft7in (201cm) ruckman was regarded as one of the club's best ever imports and he later became a regular at Richmond.

★ A 16-year-old schoolboy made his debut with Subiaco. He went on to play in a premiership side at Richmond and coach Norwood to victory in SA...his name was Neil Balme.

★ Swan Districts' rover Bill Walker was TVW7 footballer-of-the-year and won a new car valued at $2600!

★ In the last 13 games Dennis Cometti kicked 52 goals for West Perth.

★ Haydn Bunton had eight stitches in a groin injury after the last game against East Fremantle. He played one week later in the first semi-final against East Perth.

BENNETT'S BURST

By respected veteran football writer ROBERT BENNETT

Beware of the angry Tiger

WEST Perth — watch out for Claremont.

After suffering three humiliating losses to the Falcons, the warning would normally apply to the Tigers.

But football has a way of evening itself up.

It would be easy to come to the conclusion that West Perth have become a jinx side for Claremont. In fact, that is starting to be suggested.

Certainly the Tigers have shown a lack of character when the chips are down against the Falcons.

Last season John Wynne showed arrogance to Claremont, but good sense to others in progressively taking players from the ground in the last quarter to finish with only 15 men.

Not much notice should be taken of that loss by the Tigers.

The Falcons were flying high on their way to a first semi-final appearance against Swan Districts.

But I wonder how much Wynne's action went to providing John Todd with ammunition in that finals match.

Whatever the case, it didn't work. West Perth lost the following week.

In the first encounter this season, Claremont had West Perth on toast and if play hadn't stopped for a protracted time, giving West Perth a chance to regroup after George Michalczyk was flattened, the Tigers probably would have coasted to an easy victory.

MOMENTUM

Last Saturday the Tigers again seemed to have West Perth's measure, but they again lost momentum when Steve Malaxos was injured in the third quarter.

But if anything, John Wynne, rather than Graham Moss, should be concerned, even though Wynne had reason to be delighted his players have twice extricated themselves from a losing situation to snatch victory against the Tigers this season.

For a start, just how long can West Perth's luck last against the Tigers?

It would be bitter irony if the Falcons were to lose the one that's most important, in the finals, should they meet.

Claremont have shown ability-wise they are probably a better side than the Falcons. Attitude-wise they have been found wanting. You can always improve attitude. Talent is another thing.

Motivation is a big factor in football. Moss certainly has plenty of ammunition to fire his players next time these two sides meet ..... and the longer it takes to win, the more determined Claremont should become.

Maybe that's why Wynne didn't shove it up Claremont's nose when West Perth scrambled home on Saturday.

The last thing he wants to do is promulgate the theory that his team have the wood on Claremont.

Invariably, in such a situation it ends up with a team spitting out chips when least expected or wanted.

WESTSIDE WINNERS

. . . our experts have their pick

BOB CRIBB
WEST PERTH v SUBIACO
Because this game is in Kalgoorlie and to prove that I don't hate West Perth, I'm going to tip the Falcons to cause the upset of the season.

FRED WOODS
EAST FREMANTLE v CLAREMONT
I've always thought the Sharks were the third best side in WA and there is no reason why the second best side won't beat them.

ALLAN STILES
EAST PERTH v PERTH
The Demons would not want to get caught napping against a hopeful East Perth — and hope is about all the Royals can do.

ROD LOHOAR
SWAN DISTRICTS v SOUTH FREMANTLE
The rebuilding excuse doesn't work for either team this week. The Bulldogs bark will scare the feathers off the plucked ducks.

Falcons on the improve

SUBIACO can expect plenty of opposition from West Perth as they attempt to win their ninth game straight in the historical clash at Kalgoorlie this Sunday.

The neutral territory of the Goldfields will bring the two sides closer together, but it is hard to ignore the Lions brilliant form.

West Perth have more incentive to win this match and have the capacity, at their best, to burst the Lions bubble.

West Perth are improving each week and with their new-found ruck strength, they will challenge the dominance of Laurie Keene and Phil Scott.

The Falcons trio of Dan Foley, Mal Bennett and Craig Nelson have given the side more marking strength around the ground, which has lifted the overall team performance.

Both sides boast speedy mobile divisions and tremendous skill across the centre.

West Perth will be looking for better performances from midfielders Darren Bewick, Dean Warwick and Paul Miffka, who struggled for form against the Tigers.

Respective centre-half-forwards Warren Dean and Phil Bradmore are in superb form and will be key players in their side's victory hopes.

Swans face problems with South

THE winner of the Swan Districts-South Fremantle clash at Bassendean Oval this Saturday will almost ensure they do not finish the season as wooden spooners.

Both sides are experimenting with young players for the future, so there will be no shortage of enthusiasm from both sides.

South Fremantle supporters have been heartened by the performance of their team in the past two weeks and can justifiably be confident of a bold showing this Saturday.

The Bulldogs ruck, led by Craig Edwards with support from Gordon Gatti, will trouble Swans, who are missing the skills of Mick Johns.

Peter Sartori may have to do his share of ruck work again, which lessens Swans goalkicking potential.

The tall and wiry frame of Dean Irving at full-forward will pose problems for the Swans defence if he can hold his marks.

TONY CARR'S PREVIEW

A look at this week's WAFL fixtures.

PERTH TOO DETERMINED

THERE is no way Perth should accept defeat by East Perth at Perth Oval this Saturday, with a place in the four at stake.

The Demons played their best football of the season last Saturday against East Fremantle and convinced those doubters that they are serious final four contenders.

The Demons teamwork was a feature of their win over the Sharks and will be the major reason why they will be too good for the disjointed Royals side.

Perth veterans Robert Wiley and Bryan Cousins are leading their side by example and receiving excellent support from their enthusiastic teammates.

The Perth defence, led by the experienced Allan Montgomery, was rock solid against the Sharks and the Royals will have their problems penetrating this impressive unit.

Royals full-forward Brett Stephens made a welcome return to form in last Saturday's clash against South Fremantle and with centre-half-forward Michael Christian gaining in confidence, the Royals should be competitive.

Tigers in danger of slipping down ladder

CLAREMONT will be playing for more than a place in the second semi-final when they clash with East Fremantle at East Fremantle Oval this Saturday.

A loss by the Tigers could see them fall out of the four if Perth and West Perth win their matches.

Victory by Claremont would see them move into second place and be a strong contender for the double chance.

The latter is unlikely as the Sharks are tough to beat at home, especially after a loss.

Both sides were disappointing losers last Saturday and will be out to make amends in this crucial encounter.

The Tigers were too fast for the Sharks when they met on May 3, but with inspirational captain Steve Malaxos in doubt, they look vulnerable.

Malaxos is an important cog in the Tigers football make-up and much will depend on the performances of other star midfielders Michael Mitchell, Peter Davidson, Steve Goulding and Darrell Panizza.

East Fremantle struggled up forward against the Demons and will find goals hard to come by against the close-checking Claremont defence.

'FIELDS DISPUTE

DISPUTES involving umpires come thick and fast in football, but the Goldfields — centre of attention this weekend — have one outstanding controversy to their credit. In 1969, WANFL field umpire Kevin Moralee was in charge of the grand final between Mines and Boulder and did not hear the half-time siren sound at Boulder Oval. Play continued and Mines kicked a goal before someone attracted his attention. That goal proved to be decisive as Mines won by two points and subsequent appeals by Boulder all proved fruitless.

POOR TASTE

THE last thing that rival coaches Gerard McNeill (East Perth) and Don Haddow (South Fremantle) needed to be reminded about last weekend was about the previous clash between the two sides. In that Perth Oval game, East Perth floundered around like fish out of water — and Greg Brehaut was given his marching orders as the club administration ruled that "second best wasn't good enough". With the return match at Fremantle Oval proving a huge hurdle for the Royals, McNeill was in the hot seat. But the rumours were still flowing at South that Haddow has till the end of this round to lift the struggling Bulldogs — so what a tense time it must have been in both camps leading up to the game. What happens to the losers now — only time will tell!

TOO FRIENDLY

THE verbal outpouring from radio 6NR's Tim Flynn often makes for interesting commentary — but sometimes he goes too far. Flynn delights in giving players over-friendly name tags such as "Johnny" or "Bobby" or whatever. A couple of gems from last week were "Muggers" for West Perth's Noel Mugavin and "Roddy" Lohoar for one of his around-the-grounds commentators. "Waynie" Otway is another good one. Most of these people would prefer he uses their normal names, so what about it, Tim?

DEMPSEY'S DAY

MY Leederville Oval spy says that current West Perth reserves coach Bill Dempsey won't be there next season. The legendary ruckman has been working alongside league coach John Wynne since last year, but that liaison will not extend into 1987. Something to do with the departure of snappy half-forward Derek Kickett, we hear.

THE HOOD

WA's most feared footy columnist.

COUPER'S ANTICS

ONCE again the volatile Murray Couper is in the limelight with his activities as a "water boy" for Perth. Couper, often a disturbing influence as a player, certainly put East Fremantle's Shane Ellis off during last week's game. As Ellis was running towards the boundary, Couper, jogging along behind, was obviously talking to him and convinced the Sharks player that he was a Perth rival. Ellis tried to knock the ball back over his head (and obviously over the head of the pursuer) and had an awful shocked look on his face when he turned around and saw that it was Couper.

WALKER TIP

THE decision of VFL commissioner Jack Hamilton to retire has opened up speculation of just who is going to get football's top job. Earlier this season Collingwood were reported to have offered their general manager's job to WAFL chief executive John Walker, who turned down the invite. But now Walker's name is being linked with the VFL post. Judging on the number of interstate trips WA's top boy has been making lately, there could be plenty of lobbying going on! However, VFL general manager Alan Schwab is probably in the front-running for the top post.

FALCON FURY

WEST Perth were certainly annoyed at the WAFL handing out fines for missing names and numbers of players in the Football Budget. The Falcons claimed they would not pay any fines because it was unfair having to name their 26 players on Thursday morning when they didn't train till Thursday night. So one wonders what motivated them to have dashing wingman Darren Bewick play in No. 58 last week, when he was listed in his customary No. 2.

RICHO SMILES

NEW Essendon recruit Mike Richardson played in his first winning side for the season in the match against Geelong last Saturday. He played in the first game of the season for Collingwood and then was on the sidelines for five weeks with an injury. When Richardson joined the Bombers five weeks ago, they were just starting their losing streak.

DASHING DORO

"MAYBE someone should tell him how stupid he looks." That was the comment from the Channel Seven critic Eric Sarich when co-critic Grant Dorrington appeared in their Saturday night round-up segment wearing a hat. Dorro's hat was reminiscent of the Tam O'Shanter that radio man Allan (Chubby) Stiles used to wear before someone told him about his image!

PRESSURE POINT

TELEVISION critic Percy Johnson doesn't pull any punches and he's really been slipping into umpires of late. Johnson believes that the standard of umpiring is not good and he thinks that the WAFL protects them far too much. "Just when are we going to get away from the situation where no-one in a club is allowed to criticise an umpire!" he asks. Johnson told WAFL chief executive John Walker last week that there wasn't enough public pressure brought to bear on umpires for their mistakes or poor form.

TOUGH DECISION

STAGING a double-header at Subiaco Oval will be harder than the League imagines, judging on East Fremantle's comments this week. None of the top sides are going to give any of their finals opponents an extra chance to play on Subiaco Oval if they can help it, so the great idea might flounder. Let's hope not.

BROWN'S NIGHT

MAL Brown will come under the microscope at a special "roast" at Papa Luigi's restaurant in Fremantle on Wednesday, July 9. The roast, which will aid charity, will see people like East Fremantle coach Ron Alexander, 1985 Brownlow Medallist Brad Hardie, media personality Bob Maumill and Richmond executive Graham Richmond do their best to embarrass one of the most familiar names in football. Tickets are $25 and proceeds will benefit the Spastic Welfare Association.

SUBI RECORD

WHEN Subiaco bolted away from Swan Districts last week with a record score and margin, they recorded their seventh 100-point win in open football.

Their 180 points score has only been bettered twice by a Subiaco team, this year against East Perth (28.20) and in 1984 against Perth (32.12).

INTERSTATE UPDATE

From our Eastern States correspondents

Hawks cautious on national plan

VFL top side Hawthorn is demanding a "cooling off" period on any national football decision by the VFL.

"We don't want the League to make any more mistakes," says Hawthorn president and VFL vice-president Ron Cook.

"We don't want to be pushed into something which isn't right.

"At a meeting recently not one of seven clubs present wanted a national league next year.

"People might say it's just Hawthorn being conservative.

"We have the salary cap working and the change of venues for big matches is proving successful, but a new chief executive has yet to be appointed.

"Both the South Australian and Western Australian leagues can see their own competitions going under if composite sides are included in a national format.

"WA has only eight teams and if you take three of their star players from each club, where does that leave them?

"We have to think of the overall future of football in every State, not just here in Victoria."

Mr Cook's stance is the strongest yet against a national league by a high-ranking VFL official.

He believes the WAFL will now back-off from its national league ideas.

BUCKY OFF

A HAWTHORN wag says they will have to make the goalposts wider before brilliant forward Gary Buckenara can regain his goalkicking magic.

Buckenara kicked 3.7 last Saturday against North Melbourne after recent hauls of 2.5 and 1.6.

"I'm just hurrying myself too much," Buckenara said. "Today I missed a lot of the snap shots, where previously I'd been missing the set shots."

Tuck joins an elite club

VETERAN Hawthorn ruck-rover Michael Tuck has joined the elite 300 club.

The unobtrusive Hawk skipper notched game number 300 last week to join Don Scott, Leigh Matthews and Kelvin Moore as the only Hawthorn players to reach the triple century.

Tuck's football in recent years has been highlighted by his ability to be a creative link-man as a ruck-rover. Tall for an on-the-ball player (189cm or 6ft 2in) he has great agility and speed, which make him a dangerous mobile player.

But his football career started in two vastly contrasting positions — at full-forward for his debut and then on a half-back flank for his early development.

Tuck recalls an ironical story about his early days at Glenferrie Oval.

It was 1971 and he had come down from Berwick where his family had a farming property. As one of seven children, he was never short of kick-to-kick partners, but even when the others had retired to the house, he continued drilling 60-metre shots at the hay shed.

The day after Peter Hudson was seriously hurt, Tuck, the reserves full-forward, turned up early at training — and was subjected to barbs about trying to cash in and grab Hudson's league spot.

It was the next year before he gained his league guernsey, ironically at full-forward in place of Hudson.

Even though he didn't show any great potential, hardly getting a kick, coach John Kennedy was quite adamant that the lanky forward would make it.

"Tuckie? He's all right; he's got it," said the coaching legend.

It was on a half-back flank that he finally earned a permanent place in the senior side before graduating to his dangerous ruck-roving role.

His experience over those years has been enormous, playing in 23 finals and being a member of Hawthorn's premiership sides in 1976, '78 and '83 — all under different coaches.

"I've been lucky to be in the finals," he says. "That's been the best thing. We've been runners-up a few times, but I've played in more winning teams than losing teams."

Tuck, 33 last Tuesday, has no plans of retirement. He wants to play again next year, which should take him just below Leigh Matthews' club record of 339 games.

Tuck already has one record at Hawthorn — the most number of consecutive games, 138 between 1974 and 1980.

VIC SKIPPER

BRILLIANT Richmond rover Dale Weightman has emerged as Victoria's likely new football captain.

Weightman was vice-captain for Victoria against South Australia in Adelaide. But the skipper from that match, Roger Merrett, has failed to make the initial squad for the Western Australian game, so Weightman is now favoured to lead the big V side.

WA football fans will remember Weightman from last season's State-of-Origin clash where he won the Simpson-Tassie medal double.

BACK IN TOUCH

FORMER Sydney Swans rover Bernie Evans is back to his best form with a short stint in the Carlton reserves after being out of action for several weeks with a broken thumb.

Evans was best man afield in the match against Richmond last Saturday, kicking five goals.

Evans is looking forward to September when Carlton will meet the Sydney Swans.

"I am now starting to feel my confidence come back," Evans said.

"I have also learned to rove to Justin Madden and with Carlton's style of play."

WOODVILLE'S BIG UPSET

WOODVILLE caused the biggest shock in the South Australian National Football League competition this season when they beat premiership favourites North Adelaide.

The Warriors triumphed by three points, 13.18 to 12.21 and are only one win out of the top five.

Woodville seem to have turned the corner after earlier thrashing Central District by 101 points.

Port Adelaide came from behind on Saturday to beat Centrals by six points in another thrilling match.

Sturt made a great comeback to beat West Adelaide by 31 points after looking in trouble early in the game.

SANFL Report

As expected, Glenelg had a convincing win over West Torrens by 123 points and moved into the five for the first time since round five.

LIONS FOR BRISBANE?

PROMINENT Melbourne hotelier Graeme Richmond is engineering the move of a VFL club to Queensland in 1987.

The Queensland Australian Football League has approached the VFL commission to transfer this year's round 20 North Melbourne-Fitzroy game to the Gabba, as part of a pilot for potential expansion.

Brisbane millionaire businessman Alan Piper, a former Hawthorn reserves footballer, is one of the northern entrepreneurs looking at having a club — perhaps cash-embarrassed Fitzroy — move to Brisbane next year.

They could be known as the Brisbane Lions.

Our critics have a say

EILEEN BROWN mother of football's Mr Controversy, Malcolm Brown, is Australia's first female football columnist.

MOTHER BROWN

The right of reply

I KNOW that criticising fellow columnists last week must have hurt Grant Dorrington, but being a woman I am going to have my say — and it will be the last on the subject! Grant suggested that I should have had my facts right when I wrote that too much pressure was being placed on youngsters to play in the Teal Cup. That story appeared in this column on June 5. I think, Grant, you may have had your wires crossed. I never mentioned anything about the league or the clubs in my article. My concern was for the young players. Their future, to them, is just as important as the Teal Cup. As for the last sentence in your column, I was probably helping juniors (orange girl and jumper washer) before you were born and would be the last person to stop promoting juniors!

GOOD EXAMPLE

WHAT a terrific promotion by the WAFL to have Subiaco and West Perth meet in Kalgoorlie this Sunday. With West Perth making a surge in recent weeks, interest has grown in the match and it promises to be a great contest. It also gives the club fans the opportunity to have a weekend away and at the same time watch their team in action. There are a variety of ways people can get to Kalgoorlie. They can fly up on Sunday morning and straight back after the game or they can go up by train and spend a magnificent weekend in the Goldfields. This is another example of the WAFL taking football back to the country.

TOP RESULTS

WAFL officials must be rubbing their hands together joyfully. The results of last week's games were just what the competition needed. It is now a five-way battle for the four positions available and with Subiaco safe at the top of the table things are tough on the other four teams. Perth's victory over East Fremantle and West Perth's upset win over Claremont has breathed fresh air into the competition. And this week's round of fixtures should add to the excitement.

LEAGUE FINES

I'VE often been critical of the Football Budget — or, more correctly, the clubs — for not having names and guernsey numbers of all their players listed. I know it's hard for clubs to meet the deadline to list their players, but the paying public deserves every service that can be offered and knowing who is wearing what number is important. I was tackled by a South Fremantle team manager last week for criticising the clubs again — and he felt I might have been responsible for the league dishing out all those fines! Such would be the power of WA's only female football columnist!

Umpire bait not enough

IT was interesting to read where Ron Alexander believes Peter Spencer should take up field umpiring if he is forced to retire.

I certainly agree that Spencer would be an excellent league umpire after his many years of playing experience and the respect he has gained from his peers.

People have asked me why I haven't taken up umpiring.

My answer is that I'm not prepared to dedicate myself to training after doing 50 for 20 years.

Umpire training these days is very intensive with most of the men in white fitter than the fittest players.

Most retired players would not be prepared to work this hard. But if the WAFL improved the umpires wages, I'm sure some of these players would more than consider donning the whites!

□ □ □

POOR RESPONSE

CLAREMONT rely too heavily on Steve Malaxos.

When the brilliant Claremont captain was forced to leave the field in the third quarter against West Perth last week with a knee injury, the Tigers seemed to lose spirit.

When a champion player is injured, most sides lift to overcome his loss.

This didn't happen last Saturday and must concern Tigers coach Graham Moss.

With former West Perth, VFL and SANFL star JOHN DUCKWORTH.

Opposition sides are now aware of the Tigers problem and Malaxos can expect to be tagged very closely for the rest of the season.

□ □ □

ANOTHER BLOW

IT was disappointing to hear that my brother Bill had injured a hamstring in the recent match against Collingwood and looks likely to be sidelined for at least three weeks.

This latest injury is a double blow with the State-of-Origin clash coming up on July 8.

Bill would have been a strong contender for a place in defence after some recent good form at Essendon.

He is bitterly disappointed at missing a chance of playing for WA, after working so hard to regain fitness this season.

Bill's injury is just another in a long line of injuries at Essendon this season, which sees the Bombers on the verge of dropping out of the five.

PENALTY GOALS

THE World Cup Soccer in Mexico has brought to light once again the penalty goal system, the sudden-death play off after a drawn game to find the victor.

All that effort and teamwork is dismissed in just a few kicks at goal or hits at goal, as was the case with the Australian hockey team in the LA Olympic Games.

With the changes in football over the past decade, I wonder when we'll get to a final and face a drawn result that will see each side have 10 penalty kicks for goal — three from each half forward flank and four from centre-half-forward at the 50-metre line.

The pressure would be enormous as each side put forward 10 different players.

Despite the spectator satisfaction, I couldn't see the WAFL or VFL using such a system and miss out on another 50,000 or 100,000 paying customers next week!

The penalty system is fine — if your side wins.

COLLINGWOOD PREPARATION

FORMER Fitzroy team-mate Graham Allan, now the Football Manager at Collingwood, was in town last week on a recruiting mission.

Allan and club director Bob Rose, the former coach, were casting a net for the future draft system which will come with a national football competition.

They were interested in the younger players in the State and watched the Subiaco-Swan Districts and Claremont-West Perth games.

Allan said that the club was very pleased with Leigh Matthews, especially in the area of teaching the younger players more about the game and the disciplines required to achieve results.

In regard to a national competition, the concensus of opinion of the VFL clubs favour 1988, but the VFL commission favours next year.

NELSON BONUS

WEST Perth's Craig Nelson has been plagued with injuries during his career, but his return to league football in recent weeks looks to be a bonus for the Falcons, especially up forward.

Last Saturday Nelson used his bulk and strength to take some strong marks in the full-forward area and booted four goals.

With the exception of Phil Bradmore, West Perth have lacked a key big man up forward now that Dan Foley is in the ruck.

By former WA and VFL star

IAN MILLER

If Nelson can remain injury free and play consistent football he could prove to be just the right ace West Perth need in their quest for the final four.

KIMBERLEY'S 150

HAVING been associated with Barry Kimberley, I know how hard he works at training and during a game.*

His stamina and capacity to run hard all day has seen him achieve a personal milestone of 150 games.

His switch to Swan Districts in 1983 benefited his football as he has now played in two premierships.

Even though the cycle has turned at Bassendean, Kimbers is still running hard each week. Well done.

UMPS CHOICE

MIDWAY through the third quarter last week, Steve Malaxos kicked for goal, with a West Perth player infringing with a push as he did so.

A free kick was signalled, but his initial kick rolled through for a goal.

The decision the umpire had to make was — did the infringement occur as Malaxos kicked or after he kicked.

In my opinion, he was pushed after disposal, therefore he should have been given another kick.

But you rarely see umpires give such a decision and he didn't this time. But the rules do provide for it...and Claremont could have done with that extra goal to reverse the result by a point.

POOR KICKING

THERE would be no prizes for suggesting that the Claremont league and reserves teams need goal-kicking practice.

The reserves kicked 15 goals 27 points and the league followed with 13.26, which included tallies of 1.6 from Michael Mitchell and Derek Kickett.

While the wind was a factor, it wasn't the major reason for the poor kicking. Earlier in the day the Claremont under-19s displayed their accuracy in the last quarter by kicking 12.1.

Wheelchair sports critic BILL MATHER-BROWN

FROM WHERE I SIT

ARE THEY FAIR DINKUM?

I SOMETIMES wonder about some people and right now I've spent an entire weekend wondering about our State selectors.

If the item by Geoff Christian in the West Australian about Colin Waterson and Geoff Miles being eligible to play for WA against Victoria is fair dinkum, then doesn't the implication make you want to chunder.

Even more to the point, if the State selectors even entertain the idea, then Waffle should give them and the coach the bullet.

I'm a West Australian with more than my average quota of pride and there is no way I would call on two Victorians to help me win a State-of-Origin football match.

Under the rules as they stand, any Vics playing in WA can wear the black and gold providing Victoria doesn't want them. Likewise, any Sandgropers in Melbourne not selected by us, can be snapped up by the Yarrasiders.

As is apparent to the thinking football public by now, Aussie Rules administrators aren't the brightest bunch around. Under their concept, it would be possible to have a team wearing black and gold comprising all Victorians and a team carrying the white "V" to be all West Australians!

That's not likely to happen . . . but under the rules as they exist it could.

We have something like 40 WA boys in Melbourne. Our selectors take eight or more and, if they so desired, Victoria could pick a few from the rest.

FARCICAL JOKE

Let's get even more farcical. If the Vics decided that interstate footy really is a joke, they could send back a team of West Australians to play us. Our selectors could take the cream and the Vics have the rest. WA versus WA, all within the rules of State-of-Origin football as the "brains" trust sees it!

The thought that WA might just squeeze Waterson and Miles into the Sandgroper line-up suggests that an entirely West Aussie team can't handle Victoria, they would prefer not to have to depend entirely on our home-grown boys.

We could probably pick six half-back flankers capable of performing as well as Miles, so his inclusion only serves to lessen the attention that might be centred on the real objective — Waterson.

He was my early tip for the Sandover Medal and is a real class player. He has impressed with performances against tall opponents; having the best of Laurie Keene in last year's grand final and coming out on top against Essendon's Paul Salmon.

He can stand toe-to-toe in the marking duels, move very well for a big man and has versatility in that he can be played in either defence or attack.

The State selectors are aware of all this. But despite the problems Waterson's inclusion may overcome, I hope State pride will make them stick with West Australians. I'll be at Subiaco Oval to see WA against Victoria — not some of ours against some of theirs.

You can bet that the Vics won't be bringing any outsiders. The Croweaters gave them a slap in the mush in Adelaide and they will be burning with the humiliation of it all.

WA must give them another taste of it and any player or official not preapred to meet them head on, should quit now. Football is no place for squibs, particularly interstate football, and she'll be right on this time. I don't want them to have a single excuse if we down them and I'm certainly not in favour of them having Miles or Waterson as two reasons why they might have lost.

Sorry Geoff and Colin, but your State of Origin is Victoria and you are therefore ineligible as far as I'm concerned.

KALGOORLIE SOUVENIR

BACK TO THE GOLDFIELDS

THE first official WAFL fixture will be played on the Goldfields this weekend, bringing back memories of decades ago when Kalgoorlie trips were an important part of WA football. Four years ago, Subiaco played a Goldfields side in a pre-season practice match, but before that, East Fremantle were the last club side to visit Kalgoorlie in 1961, beating the local side in a pre-season practice match.

The last official clash between a combined Goldfields side and a WANFL team was 1934, when the home side won 14.9 to 13.14. The Goldfields repeated that form in 1937 when they beat South Australia's carnival side 21.21 to 18.12

High standard on Goldfields

THE Goldfields carries a high place in WA's history, being the scene for some of the State's early pioneering achievements . . . and so it has been with football.

The district boasts a long and colourful history going back to 1896 when men were pushing wheelbarrows across the Nullarbor Plain to chase their fortune among the goldfields of Kalgoorlie and Coolgardie.

They were tough, hardy men of resilience . . . and again, so it was with their footballers.

The Hannans District Football Association was the forerunner to the Goldfields National Football League and in the first season, 1896, four teams took part — Hannans, Boulder, Victorians and White Feather, who dropped out before the finals, which saw Boulder take the inaugural flag.

In the next 15 years many new teams came and left the competition — all being formed with an association around the different gold mines springing up on the fields. A number of other associations also emerged, leading to some inter-association combined matches.

The standard of football was as high as that being played in Perth, with regular combined matches being played between the two groups. WA's interstate sides were selected after those games, with representation being on a 50-50 basis.

So important was the Goldfields football that they had an independent seat on the Australian National Football Council and visits by interstate sides such as North Adelaide, St Kilda and Collingwood were commonplace.

Perth sides often travelled to the Goldfields for end-of-season matches and competition between the two camps was fierce.

First win

The WANFL won the first official inter-district match in 1933 when they beat the Goldfields 18.14 to 5.9 at Subiaco Oval. But the return match in Kalgoorlie a year later saw the Goldfields win 14.9 to 13.14 — a one point margin.

As the Goldfields football entered the war years, a junior competition was introduced in 1942-43-44, but after the war, football got back on its feet with interstate clubs and the WANFL again visiting the region.

Into the 1950s and clearance wrangles first surfaced, with Alex Epis and Dave Cuzens being refused clearances to Essendon and Richmond respectively. Epis eventually stood out for two years before finally winning a clearance and going on to be an outstanding player in Victoria.

With the gradual downturn in mining activities, football has lost some of its momentum on the Goldfields.

Teams from Norseman and Kambalda joined the league, with games being played at Kambalda, who have emerged as the top team this year, followed by Railways, Kalgoorlie, Boulder and Mines.

Many stars in the past

THE influence of Kalgoorlie players on West Australian football has been enormous.

In the early days it was not considered important to move to the city to prove your ability because the standard was equally high on the Goldfields. But many players did come to Perth to establish league careers.

Sandover Medallists to come from the goldfields include such champions as Tom Outridge, the inaugural winner in 1921, playing for Subiaco.

He was followed in 1923 by East Perth's Digger Thomas and then Johnny Rocchi (South Fremantle) in 1928 and East Fremantle's Lin (Blue) Richards in 1931. Claremont's Sonny Maffina was named the State's top player in 1949.

In 1952, champion South Fremantle rover Steve Marsh took the Sandover to be the last Kalgoorlie player to do so — but certainly not the last country player.

Tom Outridge . . . the inaugural Sandover Medallist.

The 1924 Sandover Medallist, Jim Gosnells, went to the Goldfields after his West Perth career had finished.

In 1935, football's top honour had its first tie with George Krepp (Swans) and Lou Daily (Subiaco) sharing the medal and both later became Goldfields stars.

In the goalkicking feats, Perth's Alan Evans (64 goals in 1921) and West Perth's Frank Hopkins (79 goals in 1930) were two players to head the WANFL's goalkicking ladder.

Many State players came from the Goldfields and men who captained the WA side included the legendary Nipper Truscott (the only man to play in five consecutive Australian carnivals, 1908-11-14-21-24), Phil Matson, Tom Outridge, Stan (Pops) Heal, Jerry Dolan, Dick Lawn, John Colgan, Bill Trewhella and Hughie Gavin.

There were many Goldfields players heading back across the border to play VFL football and they included Charlie Tyson jun, Alex Epis, Lin (Blue) Richards, Dave Cuzens, Clive McDiarmid and Otto Pool, Dick Jones and Dave Griffiths.

Though today's flow of top-grade league footballers has slowed down from the Goldfields, there are still recruiting agents active in the area.

Subiaco have the Goldfields as their country zone and in recent years they have brought down players like Mick Johns (now at Swan Districts), Mick Lee, Glenn O'Loughlin and newcomer John Sullivan. Going back a few years, Dick Robinson, Graeme Lightfoot and Gerry Cotter were Subiaco players from Kalgoorlie.

There was a player-drought in the 1960s and '70s, but Subiaco stepped up their development programs earlier this decade and the flow of players is starting once again.

THE Goldfields Football League is something like the famous Golden Mile — about to be revived to start becoming a real gold mine again.

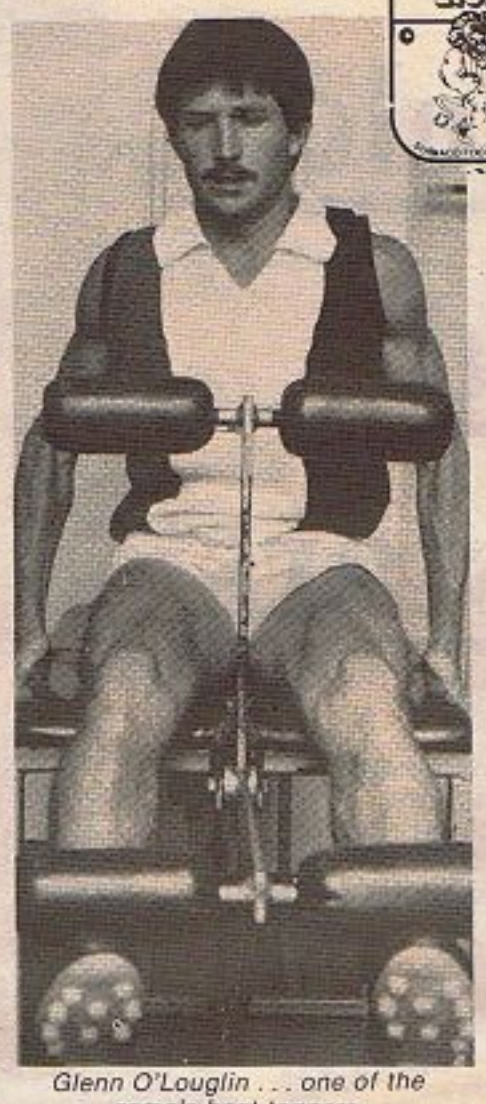
Good football judges in the goldfields will tell you that the talent has always been there, but the Lions have not worked hard enough to entice the star players to the city.

Subiaco's football administrator, Trevor Nisbett, has worked hard in the area since joining the Lions several seasons ago.

This hard work is now starting to bare fruit as several former Goldfields footballers are beginning to make the grade in Perth.

Some like Glenn O'Loughlin and Mick Johns have developed into key players for their respective clubs, Subiaco and Swan Districts.

O'Loughlin is arguably the best tagger in the WAFL and this aspect of his game has seen him stop some of the best players in the competition.



Glenn O'Louglin . . . one of the game's best taggers.

Players of the calibre of Michael Mitchell, Kevin Taylor and Robert wiley have been on the receiving end of the O'Loughlin shadow over the past two seasons.

Apart from keeping these stars out of the game, O'Loughlin has shown an ability to pick up many possessions and dispose of the ball accurately to teammates.

The former Boulder player is the type of footballer that coach Haydn Bunton admires the most.

Not blessed with great natural skills, O'Loughlin plays a similar style of football to what Bunton played.

He does the hard, unglamourous things of football which Bunton was famous for.

Johns has made a name for himself at Swans after struggling to realise his potential at Subiaco.

Like O'Loughlin, Johns is a 100 per cent contributor and has carried the Swans ruck on his broad shoulders in the past few seasons with injuries and retirements affecting the club.

Mick Lee is another player from the Goldfields, but has not tasted the same success as O'Loughlin and Johns.

Lee has been up and down from league and reserves in his six seasons at Subiaco Oval.

He spent most of last season on the interchange bench, but has struggled to break into the strong Subiaco line-up this season.

John Sullivan and Wayne Golding are two former Kalgoorlie juniors showing potential in the Lions den.

Sullivan is a talented utility player who has already tasted the big-time this season, while Golding has been impressing in the reserves and is a midfielder Lions officials have high hopes for.

Dick Robinson . . . former top goalkicker at Subiaco.

A round-up of news from the West West Australian Amateur Football League.

Nollamara lose unbeaten record

SCARBOROUGH full-back Steve Lawrence dashed Nollamara's hopes of going through the season undefeated when he cut full forward Colin Northcott out of last week's A-grade game.

The game had another top individual clash with Ed Bencic (Nollamara) and Ray Briggs (Scarb) locked in a struggle that had skill and physical clashes, with both strongly contributing for their sides.

Scarborough had built themselves up for this game, with many four-quarter players in McFaull (seven goals), Warner, Fussell, Raynor, Riddell and a welcome return to form of rover John Bengough.

Nollamara had fine contributors in McPartland, Nietfield and State wingman Bencic, but lacked depth compared to their opponents.

An inaccurate Mt Lawley clawed their way to victory over traditional rivals Wembley by 35 points.

The Hawks were led brilliantly by All-Australian Wayne Hardman and Phil Warren (a late inclusion in the State team) in the last line of defence combining instinctively throughout.

Other strong performances came from Leigh Sprlman, John Pinner and Geoff Horton, while for the Magpies, Hoare, Taylor and veteran Bill Payne gave everything for their side.

In a one-sided match, Phil Haughan's Innaloo ran right over Gary Greer's CBC side by 75 points.

CBC couldn't match the running style of Innaloo and unless they can notch a couple of wins soon, they can look to playing B-grade next season.

Top performances came from Haywood, Wynne and Haughan for Innaloo, while Reed, Brindley and Lambert were CBC's best.

North Beach put their 1986 finals chances in jeopardy when they went down to eighth placed University by 33 points.

The inconsistency of University has been difficult to understand with two top performances in a row after a 20-goal loss.

The resurgence of University is parallel with the top form of former State player "Fingers" Annear, John Love, Mark Paganin, Geoff Mander and centreman Greg Evans. Brad Lohoar, Gary Dennis, Scott Wolfe and Tony Tomizzi were good triers for North Beach.

In the clash of the day, Trinity-Aquinas beat Old Wesley by 33 points in a tight contest highlighted by strong defences.

The win put Trinity-Aquinas equal with North Beach and Old Wesley on 24 points, with a finals spot available for only two of them — and Trinity have the easier run home.

150 GAMES — JOHN LENNON (Bassendean)

Started playing with Bassendean in 1978 as a ruckman. Was runner-up to the club's fairest and best in 1984 and won the Most Improved Player trophy in 1983 and Most Consistent in 1984. Served on the club committee in 1981 and 1982.

A GRADE REPORT

by Trevor Schorer

Strongman Jeremy McGrade was once again one of the best players for his side and was suported by Croft and the ever-reliable Pendal, while Old Wesley's best were Jackson, Lesson and Bryn Chute.

The next round on July 5 could see some interesting clashes with most sides affected by loss of players to the WA side in Adelaide.

However, the Nollamara-Mt Lawley clash should see a good game with Nollamara taking the points due to only having three State reps compared to Mt Lawley's seven.

LAST WEEK'S RESULTS

A-GRADE

Mt Lawley 14.19 d Wembley 9.14
Innaloo 21.14 d CBC 10.5
University 20.17 d North Beach 15.14
Scarborough 13.13 d Nollamara 9.13
Trinity-Aquinas 12.13 d Old Wesley 8.4

PETER RUSH

reports on the B-grade scene

DIANELLA consolidated their place in the B-grade top five with a crushing 72-point win over WAIT.

The victory put the Panthers one game clear of MHWP, Maylands and WAIT in the race for the final two spots in the five.

The top three positions are all sewn up, revealing an alarming division in the competition, as Saturday's results again proved.

North Fremantle avenged their first round loss with a powerhouse display of team football to outclass a dismal Maylands by 125 points.

Andrew and Chris Webster were outstanding contributors in the two key forward positions and with half-forward Steve Delamarta kicked 16 of the side's 22 goals.

Captain Drew Herrington continued his good form and could well be on his way to a second Association Medal. Dave Hunter, Ossie Dikolli and Neville Reeves toiled hard all day for the Rams.

MHWP returned to the winning list when they kicked away from Collegians-Old Scotch in the final stages to win by 14 points. Silly mistakes in the last quarter cost Collegians dearly as at one stage they trailed by only 2 points.

Les Phillips, in the centre, gave the Mounties plenty of drive, as did speedy wingman Steve McClarren and rover Brett Purser. Coach Steve Bombaderi is starting to hit the form that saw him win the 1983 Association medal despite recuring back problems. For Collegians-Old Scotch, a good contribution came from nippy rover Ronnie Demir.

Bayswater worried Mt Lawley as they did in the first round. Good players for the Blues were Robbie Casamento, Graham Stott and coach Neil Pendrow. Bayswater seem to nag higher placed sides, but lack the firepower and touch of class to win the close games.

EXECUTIVE REPORT

A meeting of presidents of amateur clubs fielding colts teams, plus their colts coaches, was held recently to discuss the general lack of discipline in that grade.

Complaints include the constant bad language and a growing number of violent incidents.

Several points were canvassed as to why these things were happening and what steps should be taken to overcome the problems.

It was unanimously agreed that the conduct of the players was the responsibility of the coach initially and it was heartening to see the coaches accept that fact.

It was also agreed that their role was to introduce young players to amateur football and not just to try and win.

Winning will come from a disciplined attitude to the game, to team-mates and to the club.

It was also agreed that club officials and members should be responsible for the discipline and conduct of the colts.

It is the role of the Amateur League to ensure that players, coaches and clubs display an acceptable attitude to the game.

The League, including its umpires, rely heavily on the coaches and officials of clubs to ensure that the discipline is in place before the games start. At that point only the rules can be applied.

Many who attended the meeting felt that the League appeared loathe to penalise players and clubs who offended.

It was important that the Amateur League reinforced the efforts of coaches and club officials by penalising the transgressing minority severely.

Those present asked that the League consider more flexible use of the send-off rule and also make it compulsory for all coaches to be accredited by the end of the 1988 season.

Any clubs appointing coaches after that time must ensure they become accredited during that season.

The meeting was an encouraging sign of commitment by the coaches and officials, but with a warning to the League that they must support them on all occasions.

Trevor Howard, WAAFL President

UPSETS GALORE

The 11th round of fixtures saw many upsets.

- Mt Lawley No.3 lost their season's first game in F-grade against ninth placed Maylands No. 2 who had only one previous victory to their credit.
- Nollamara A-colts (9th) downed Scarborough (5th) to win their second game.
- University No. 3 (7th) upset Bassendean (2nd) in C-grade. Uni can now force their way into the top five.
- Also in C-grade, Whitford (3rd with six wins) toppled the strong Swan Athletic combination by nine goals. Swans could not overcome their run of injuries.

UMPIRE MILESTONE

North Beach Football Club president Neil Savage (right), made a special presentation recently to mark the 300 game milestone of umpire Bruce Wainwright.

Bruce, secretary of the WAAFL since 1981 and assistant secretary from 1974, started umpiring in the amateurs in 1972 and has umpired a grand final every year since.

Umpiring highlights include the 1980 interstate amateur game WA v Victoria and the A-grade grand final in 1980.

Since 1974, he has taken all amateur results on Saturday evenings, telephoning them to the Sunday press.

His first involvement with amateurs was as a player for the now defunct South Perth Amateur Club and he has also umpired junior football.

STATE TEAM NAMED

THE final 25 players to compete in the Australian Amateur Football Council carnival in Adelaide next week are:

Ian Berry, Brad Dunn, Wayne Hardeman, Leigh Sprlyan, Ross Walker, Phil Warren (Mt Lawley); Edward Bencic, Colin Northcott, Marc Tomsons (Nollamara); Gary Dennis, Dave Perry, Lance Marwood (North Beach); Matt Viskovitch, Dennis Volk, Kim Yukich (Swan Athletic); Craig Kettlewell (Innaloo); Matt McNee, Paul McNee (WAIT); Mark Paganin, John Love (Uni); Damien Lawrie (CBC); Grant Callaghan, Peter Hoar (Wembley); Phil Green, John Hackett (Trinity-Aquinas).

Injuries during the week to Dixie Joy, Warwick Gates, Steve Webster and Murray Vitalick ended their chances of selection.

MILESTONE

Dean Martin (Bassendean). A forward, he started in 1975. Best team-man 1979 'D' grade. Leading goalkicker and member of 'D' grand final team 1985. Committeeman since 1980; present club treasurer. First member of Bassendean to reach 200 games.

THIS WEEK'S HIGHLIGHTS

★ Trinity-Aquinas A-colts are still on target to contest this year's grand final with University. The two teams are a class above the rest. Trinity's best in recent starts have been forward Don Parnell, Kent Hunter (wing) and Greg Hogan (back pocket).

★ Old Wesley A-colts, coached by Frank Wood, could not match the slick Trinity machine despite form players of recent starts, Scott Spalding, Murray Gmiener and Matt Hoskin, contributing.

★ Coolbellup celebrated Ross Smith's 200th game in style. The G-grade team consolidated their top ranking with a three-point decision over grade leaders Innaloo. With a club record of nine straight wins the Coobie Cats were best served by Glen Jones and Geoff Plunket, while Lance Kallenburg donimated the ruck duels.

★ Hamersley failed to achieve positive results in all grades last week. D-Grade, coached by Steve Moor, could not match Applecross. In recent games Joe Sidorow, Les Malpass and backman Mal Tidey have been under notice. D-colts (Dave Nicholson, coach) have had Darrin Gaske, Shane Wilson and Dave Buckhold playing well. Bob Stacevich's reserves (K-grade), sitting in second place, have Glenn Wragge and Duncan Lodge among the best.

★ Veteran campaigner Jimmy Maldenis had Nollamara No. 3 in top form with veterans Robbie Goff and Peter Hayman in full flight backed up by Greg McGovern and Lloyd Morry.

★ Bassendean C-grade could not match the rejuvenated Uni No. 2 combination. Clay Whittle, Bill Pinker and Ian Halliday are the big performers for the Swans.

★ Hellenic C-grade, severely hit by injuries, are finding the going tough. Best players in recent games have been Mark Sofilis, Paul Rundle and Ian Bradshaw.

★ Applecross' Nick Grundy, celebrating his 50th game, had no joy with his reserves team failing against WAIT. Others under notice were Peter Fannon, Shane Walker and Alan Burnett. The Numbats senior team looked good with Craig Robb, Steve Nicolaou and Greg Bone setting up a win over Hamersley. D-colts held fifth spot thanks to David Hoskins and Damien Dodwell with good four-quarter efforts.

★ Dianella J-graders cemented third spot defeating North Fremantle, whose hold on fourth spot is shakey. Peter Smith, Kevin Cox and Greg Vank helped set up the win. The Panthers B-colts had Radford, Tessell and Bolton under notice but failed to match WAIT by 12 points.

★ Wanneroo's Mark Hodgson marked his 100th amateur game (he also played with Morley and Edgewater), with a top winning game against Dianella. Other Roos to watch were Geoff O'Day, David Brown and Mark Nanovich. In a low standard game, their L-grade reserves picked up valuable percentage against Nollamara No.4. Mich Hayes, vice captain Neil Rowles, Martin Ellis and Cameron Bauer engoyed solid efforts. D-colts failed by one point to match Forrestfield. Alan Jones, Steve Game, Ian Brown and Steve Cherry worked hard.

★ Innaloo No.2 G-grade's inaccuracy cost them premiership points against Coolbellup. Scot Uglow, Robert Newton and Cliffe Rocke have been the Dogs' best in past weeks. Their colts have relied on Mark Broughton and vice captain Robert Straun.

★ Whitfords are running on a high with three of their four teams victors. The C-grade won their fifth game in a row at the expense of Swan Athletic. Best for Whitfords were Greg Horan, Darren Lockhart, Joe Wallam. Reserves teams struggled against Bayswater with a nine goal last quarter being the difference. Five goals apiece to Robbie Jackamara and Ian Renshaw supported by Tom Mills, Keith Parry and Steve Quartermaine.

Bunbury hold on to beat South

BUNBURY withstood a great last-ditch fightback before ending a drought against top side South Bunbury in the South-West National Football League last Sunday.

Bunbury upset the Tigers by three points — 14.18 to 14.15 — to record their first win against their neighbours since 1982.

A capacity crowd saw the game at Payne Park, in wet and windy conditions, which confirmed the Bulldogs as definite premiership threats.

At half-time Bunbury led 9.9 to 3.8, but just before three-quarter-time South Bunbury hit the front for the first (and only time) in the match.

The Bulldogs regained the lead at the last change and in the final term built up a 21-point margin which seemed to put them safe.

The Tigers showed why they are a top side by kicking the last three goals to almost steal the game.

Bunbury's match-winner was Graham Cross who tagged star Tiger Peter Hodyl and kept him down to just a few touches all day. Back-pocket John Sara and teenage wingman Wayne Davis were also good players for the Bulldogs.

South Bunbury's best were half-forward Mick Grasso, centreman David Anderson and Peter Old, who controlled the ruck after half-time when switched from centre-half-forward.

David Narkle kicked six goals for Mines Rovers after starting on the interchange bench to take his team to a comfortable win — 16.16 to 11.9 — over Boyanup-Capel-Dardanup.

Rover Brett Whiteaker, centre-half-back Gary Winterton and utility Kevin Rowe were best for the Miners, while former WAFL player Brett Farmer (ruck-roving) and half-back flanker Randall Prowse and forward Danny Sharpe stood out for the Cardinals.

Collie bounced back to good form when they beat Carey Park 15.9 to 6.16.

Carey Park couldn't recapture their form of a week earlier when they won a classic match against Bunbury. In fact, the Panthers only scored eight points after half-time.

Ian Michael, who played in the unaccustomed position of back-pocket, was best-on-ground for the Saints and was ably supported by ruck-rover Peter Slater and half-forward Darren O'Brien.

Carey Park's centre-half-back Michael O'Donoghue and ruckman Leigh Wright played well for their side.

The game was marred by some bad incidents in the last seven minutes when Panther defender Bill Lawler was reported three times - twice for striking and once for charging.

Augusta-Margaret River had a surprisingly easy 23.27 to 15.11 victory over Busselton.

The Hawks played a polished second half after leading by only four points at the break.

Seventeen-year-old Teal Cup player Peter Miller gave an excellent roving exhibition for the winners and co-rover Kevin Regan, who booted four goals, full-forward Paul Cannon (5) and centre-half-forward Ian Wright (4) help set up the win.

Best Magpies were rover Neil Forster and ruckman David Roberts.

Harvey-Brunswick's first quarter paved the way to an easy win over Donnybrook. They opened with 8.2 to 0.1 and won 17.11 to 7.8.

Ray Masters continued his top form on the half-forward flank for the Lions and booted five goals. Team-mates Graeme Jeffrey (roving) and ruck-rover Craig Rogers were sound performers.

Dons fullback-follower, Lindsay Dale, was his side's best player and was supported by the Atherton brothers, Darren at centre-half-back and Shayne on a wing.

The second round of fixtures starts this Sunday.

The games, with first round winners in capitals are: Mines Rovers v DONNYBROOK, at Collie; Boyanyup-Capel-Dardanup v BUSSELTON, at Capel; Carey Park v HARVEY-BRUNSWICK, at Kelly Park; Augusta-Margaret River v BUNBURY, at Margaret River; South Bunbury v COLLIE, at Hands Oval.

The selectors are prepared to add more players to the squad if form warrants.

Peter Betti is coach and will train the squad four times - July 10, 17, 24 and 28 at Hands Oval Bunbury.

The squad is: HARVEY-BRUNSWICK Dom Trimboli, Graeme Jeffrey, Sean Mooney, John Morgan, Ray Masters, Dom Crognale, Sam Strano, Austin Ietto, Craig Rogers, Paddy Madafarri, David Morris; CAREY PARK: Mark Skehan, Shaun O'Callaghan, Troy Ugle, Russell Waterman, Leigh Brenton, Steven Stewart, Frank Lawler, Leigh Wright, Bill Lawler, Michael O'Donoghue. COOROW DOUBLE

NORTH Midlands Football League club Coorow recently had two players reach milestones in a local derby against Carnamah.

Ruckman Ian Kerr notched 150th club game and Wesfarmers All-Stars team-mate Ricky West made his 100th appearance.

Both Magpies had to celebrate with a loss as Carnamah were too strong.

BOULDER ALIVE

BOULDER weren't alive in 1985, but they've done the trick in 1986.

They didn't win a Goldfields National Football League game last year, or in 1984. But this season they have instilled new life into the competition.

After beating former top team Kalgoorlie a fortnight ago, Boulder snuck home by one point against Kambalda, who had moved into top spot.

It was the Eagles second loss in succession by a point, as Railways won a thrilling game against them a week earlier.

Tigers best players in their win against Kambalda were Ron McNess, Des Smith and Bradley George. Eagles best were Terry Tyralik, Kevin Williams and Nigel Thomas.

CLUB FINED

THE Finucane Island Football Club was fined $500 when its entire league team was found guilty by the North Pilbara Football League of using abusive language in a recent game against Karratha Kats.

NPFL president Ray Turner said he is happy with the way the club and tribunal chairman Eric Priddetch conducted the affair with the minimum of fuss.

PRESIDENT ON REPORT

KALGOORLIE Railways president Don Jones was reported by three umpires during a Goldfields National Football League clash against Mines recently.

Field umpires Ian Eade and Mick Kiddle and emergency umpire Ian Clark, reported Jones for encroaching on the playing arena during a melee between the two teams.

TOP TWO MEET

SOUTH Mandurah and Pinjarra, the top two sides in the Murray Districts Football League, met last Sunday and the former ran out winners 16.14 to 13.10.

Third-placed Mundijong Centrals 21.28 easily accounted for bottom side Byford 7.2. Stan Ward and Gerry Hansen both booted seven goals for Centrals.

Harvey Towns widened the split between fourth and fifth spot when they defeated Waroona 10.15 to 6.6. It was Towns' first win in five weeks.

Captain-coach Terry Eaton was best along with Dom Fazzolari and Glen Faulkner. Waroona's best were Bernie Green, Mike Le Roy and Frank Shaw.

This Sunday Towns face South Mandurah at Harvey, Waroona play Centrals at Waroona and Pinjarra will be at home against Byford.

UMPIRE EXPERIMENT

THE Upper Great Southern Football League and the Murray Districts Football League combined forces last Sunday in an umpire experiment.

Murray Districts umpire Terry Cain co-umpired the Boddington-Wickepin Upper Great Southern match at Boddington with UGSFL umpire Paul Maddern and, this Sunday, the two will combine again to adjudicate the Harvey Towns-South Mandurah Murray Districts match at Harvey.

MDFL chairman Ken Landwehr said the move would enable both umpires to prepare for the Great Southern carnival in Manjimup on July 5 and 6.

"It's a good public relations exercise and it's been very successful," remarked Landwehr.

NO THANKS

THE Great Northern Football League, forever on the lookout for a potential site to build a headquarters, recently turned down an offer to amalgamate with the financially-struggling Geraldton Sportsman's Club.

GNFL's media director Ron Hayward said it is too big a proposal in which to get involved.

SDFL SQUAD

THE Southern Districts Football League has announced its squad for the Elders Great Southern carnival at Manjimup on July 5 and 6.

Former North Mt Barker coach John Dennis is at the helm and his selectors are former West Perth player Alan Watling and Noel Hulm.

A training session will be held at Collingwood Park, Albany on Wednesday July 2.

Ditchburn kicks 12

THE Central Great Southern Football League had a topsy-turvy round last Sunday when the top two teams were beaten.

Ross Ditchburn kicked 12 goals from full-forward for third-placed Kukerin when his team defeated Tambellup 18.11 to 15.16 in an exciting match.

Tambellup's best goal-scorers were Ray Williams (6) and Craig McVee (4). Ditchburn, who booted 12 goals twice for VFL side Carlton, was well supported by Tom Pearce and Ronan Edwards.

Tambellup's best were Lomas Ugle, Williams and Justin Taylor.

In the other upset, fifth-placed Kojonup 12.15 beat top side Wanderers 6.12. Best players were Kerrin Olliffe, John Tuckett, Emil Guidi (Kojonup), Rick and Alan Wilson and Neil Fox (Wanderers).

Michael Fleay kicked four goals for the victors.

The game between the bottom two teams - Dumbleyung and Gnowangerup - was close for three quarters. But the former impressed with a 10-goal last quarter to win 21.19 to 8.8.

Darryl Hart, Ray Hoy and Colin Ball were best for Dumbleyung and Steve Donohue, Tom Rodway and Kevin Mantach stood out for Gnowangerup.

Dumbleyung's Greg Taylor bagged four goals and team-mates Steve Forbes and Howie Ward scored three, as did Wade Hayward for the losers.

This Sunday Australs play Gnowangerup, Kojonup meet Dumbleyung and Tambellup front Wanderers in the clash of the top two. Kukerin have the bye.

SANDOVER MEDAL GUIDE

THIS weekly Sandover Medal Guide is designed to help the keen football follower keep track of Sandover Medal fancies. Each week we list the major media voting on a 3-2-1 basis. Though the medal is now decided on a 5-4-3-2-1 voting system, many media organisations have opted to stay with the old best-three-on-the-ground voting. Cut this weekly form guide out and clip it in a file as an easy-to-read indicator as the season marches on. There is space provided under the umpires heading to record their official votes on Sandover Medal night.

Council blamed for junior fees

THE number of players in the East Fremantle Junior Football Council has dropped significantly this season — and the blame is put on three local authorities, the City of Canning, Melville City Council and East Fremantle Town Council.

EFJFC treasurer Frank McGrath says that ground hire expenditure last season totalled $2702. This season it has rocketed to $5150.

"Naturally we must offset the increased costs by charging players more to compete in football," says McGrath. "It's obvious many players aren't prepared to pay the extra amount."

The EFJFC has 11 clubs this season, which lasts 16 weeks. In 1985 they had 13 clubs. The number of teams has dropped from 91 to 73 and the number of players from 2200 to 1800.

McGrath says the City of Canning charges have gone from $55 per team per season to $120...and with 34 teams in that Shire — Willetton (12), Rossmoyne (8), Lynwood (8) and Riverton (6) — that is a huge increase.

The Melville City Council charges have doubled from last year - from $11 per team per season to $22. This involves 35 teams — Bullcreek (9), Melville (7), Applecross (7), Karoonda (6), Attadale (5) and Palmyra (1).

The East Fremantle Junior Football Club is the only EFJFC club in the East Fremantle Town Council.

The club has six teams and is charged a set fee of $275 to use Henry Jeffery Oval for the season — about $46 per team.

"Each season the East Fremantle Town Council charges are increased by about 10%," claims McGrath, who says the Shires aren't always sympathetic to the Council's plight.

"A Melville City Council letter dated July 24, 1985 says that the Council was spending $500,000 to maintain 17 reserves in its locality," says McGrath. "Our Junior Council asked for a break-down of these costs, but hasn't received a reply.

"The Melville City Council says that only about 3% of the maintenance figure quoted is recouped from local sporting bodies...and warns that the charges will increase over the next two years.

"I realise ground hire is a problem for all junior councils," he said. "But the rising costs on junior footballers between 9 and 17 years is causing a player drain."

There has been claims from the EFJFC that football is hard done by and some other sports aren't incurring the same costs for ground use.

McGrath says rising ground hire charges, and associated problems, are never-ending.

"Every effort must be made to keep juniors in sport and off the streets where they can become public nuisances. Junior football councils really need a fairer go."

PLEASING

SOUTH Fremantle's district colts administrator, Phil Farmer, is elated at the attitude of the players in the competition and an extra round of games have been added to the fixtures.

"To do this we had to drop a planned trip away at the end of the season," said Farmer. "But the players accepted that option; it shows they enjoy and appreciate the competition.

"I'm sure that comes about because they are allowed to administer the competition themselves. They are 17 and 18-year-olds and are quite capable of making decisions."

Coolbellup have dominated the competition by thrashing all opponents in recent weeks, but last Sunday were strongly challenged by Hilton, who lost by only four goals.

Cockburn, in a welcome return to form, won the other game against Kardinya by eight goals.

This Sunday Coolbellup play Cockburn at Fremantle Oval at 12.40pm followed by Hilton versus Kardinya at 2.40pm.

Scarborough in CIG final

SCARBOROUGH Senior High School, representing the Claremont Football Club, is the first team to reach the 1986 CIG Shield grand final to be played on July 8 at Subiaco Oval before the WA-Victoria game.

Their opponents will be the winner of the Hamilton Hill (South Fremantle) - Gosnells (East Fremantle) semi-final clash at Lathlain Park tomorrow (Friday, June 27) at 10am.

Scarborough are the third school in succession to represent Claremont in the grand final.

They follow Christ Church College — winners in 1984 — and Carine, who were runners-up last season.

Either Hamilton Hill or Gosnells can give their respective clubs their first taste of a CIG grand final next week.

Gosnells retained their East Fremantle zone crown last week by beating John Willcox (Geraldton) 11.7 to 8.9 and then Thornlie 8.10 to 2.7.

In the last of the country clashes, Albany (Claremont) beat Bunbury SHS (Swan Districts). Albany then met Scarborough at Kojonup to determine Claremont's zone champion and lost by 10 points.

Scarborough then beat Balga 10.6 to 7.3. Earlier Balga became West Perth's zone champion by defeating Greenwood 11.13 to 7.5.

The CIG Shield competition, for Year 10 and below high school teams, is in its fourth season.

This year 79 schools, including 15 from the country, took part. The WAFL sponsored the country schools to the tune of $2500 for travel allowances.

Next week's grand final winner will receive the prestigious CIG Shield from State manager Dennis Myler and $500 from the CIG company. The runners-up will receive $250 for their school.

Schoolboys Squad named

WA's 1986 schoolboys squad has been named to contest the annual carnival in Adelaide from August 7 to 17.

The squad will be together for a live-in camp at Penrhos College, Como, from June 29 to July 4.

Last weekend they beat Claremont's Esso Squad by 19 goals and will play Claremont in another practice match and later play Wesley and Trinity Colleges in their preparation for this year's 55th carnival.

East Fremantle, Swan Districts and Subiaco have five representatives each in the squad, South Fremantle (4), East Perth (3), West Perth (2) and Perth (1). Claremont have no representative this year.

The squad is:

Nathan Spilcker, Aaron Zampogna, Jason Walker (Warwick), Philip Dikoli, Paul Higgins (Cyril Jackson), John McIntyre, Phil Clancy (Hamilton Hill), David Marriott (Ocean Reef), Benjamin Stewart (Mt Lawley), Craig Mclean (Applecross), Brett Vuleta (Lockridge), Andrew Carter (Greenwood), Clinton Willis (Gosnells), John Lawrence (Rossmoyne), Glenn Willgross (Thornlie), Robert Turner (Kelmscott), Scott Kettlewell (John Willcox, Geraldton), Glenn Fletcher (St. Pats, Geraldton), Glen Dehring (Bunbury Catholic College), Travis Edmonds (Guildford Grammar), Anthony Boyatzis (Trinity College), Nigel Bedford (Donnybrook), Craig Ranson (Norseman), Brett Genesini (Mandurah), Anthony Holob (Servite, Tuart Hill), and emergencies Jamie O'Keefe (Greenwood) and Daniel Robertson (Cyril Jackson).

Coaching the squad for the first time is Ric Evans and his manager is Eddie Donnes.

ELITE SQUAD

SWAN Districts introduced their inaugural elite squad this week.

Fifty players from 13s to 17s have made the squad and will spend the next eight weeks receiving specialised training.

The players from the 13s and 14s will be exclusively coached at Bassendean oval each Monday and the 15s, 16s and 17s, will gain the same benefit each Tuesday.

At the end of the eight-week course, the squad will spend a three day live-in camp at Bassendean Oval.

The players were selected for the squad by the combined side coaches.

NORTH BEACH

LEADING Tiger Cup side North Beach went down to Marist 12.18 to 10.15 last Sunday — to keep alive their finals hopes.

Their win has put them just two points outside the four, behind North Beach (28), Churchlands-Wembley (24), Hawks (24) and Woodlands (24). Behind Marist are Karrinyup (12), Wembley Downs (10) and the win-less Scarborough.

Last Sunday Woodlands beat Wembley Downs, Churchlands-Wembley did likewise to Scarborough and Hawks were too strong for Karrinyup. There is a general bye this Sunday.

SWANS CLINIC

SWAN Districts will conduct their second super-clinic for the season this sunday at Bassendean Oval.

On Mothers' Day this year they held their first clinic with 666 boys, ranging from 7-16 years of age, made it a great success.

In conjunction with this Sunday's clinic, all junior players in the Swans area have been issued two free passes — courtesy of the WAFL — to this Saturday's Swans-South Fremantle league game at Bassendean Oval.

By writing their names on the passes, the players qualify for a special raffle draw.

SUNDAY SCENE

Sunday Football League (WA) Inc.

Kim Hagdorn's weekly round-up of Sunday League matches.

Bad loss for South Perth

SOUTH Perth probably kicked themselves out of the 1986 premiership race with their 32 point loss to arch rivals Wanneroo at Lathlain Park last Sunday.

The Tigers managed a meagre 4-11 against Wanneroo, in what rates as the club's worst performance for more than a decade.

Souths were never in the hunt for four vital premiership pionts which would have kept alive their hopes of qualifying for the finals.

The Tigers now face an almost impossible task this week to bounce back to the winners circle, when they take on outright premiership favourites Osborne Park at Lathlain.

The lack of any system in South Perth's play last week suggests they are ill-equipped to stop Osborne Park's unbeaten run.

South Perth will bank heavily on their tight, disciplined defence, led by Gary Kingston and Gary Diver and their centreline of Dave Nelson, Paul Collie and Dave Armstrong.

Armstrong's return to a wing and continued good form from Collie and Nelson, will be crucial to South Perth's hopes.

Speedy winger Brett Clausen, Brian Douge, Peter O'Connell, Gary Bradshaw, Mark Stevenson and Robbie Mulder form a mid-field combination that should prove too powerful for Souths.

Souths can expect problems in the ruck contests.

Osborne Park's move to the head of the table has been helped by their dominant big man battery, led by former Claremont star and 1986 coach Barry Beecroft.

The Saints also have competent big man back-up in big Andrew Bownes and Dave Holman.

After Sunday's clash with the premiership favourites, South meet Armadale, before taking the bye in round 13.

However, the Southerner's hierarchy is working frantically to overcome their slump last week.

Talks this week appear likely to see former Subiaco player Steve Leishman involved in a swap for West Perth reserves ruckman Michael Stockley.

Leishman had been expected to play with South Perth before June 30 and Stockley with Thornlie.

But the need for a ruckman at South and the form of Geoff Ironmonger, Steve Waddell and Brad Elson at Thornlie has tempted the Lions to consider the swap.

Souths coach Brian Adamson is also considering a comeback to bolster the forward line.

Fixtures for this Sunday (with Kim Hagdorn's tips in caps):

South Perth v OSBORNE PARK, at Lathlain Park; WILLETTON v Canning, at Burrendah Reserve: WANNEROO v Kenwick, at Kingsway Reserve; THORNLIE v Maddington, at Thornlie Oval; KALAMUNDA v Kelmscott, at Ray Owen Reserve; Gosnells v ARMADALE, at Gosnells Oval; APPLECROSS v Fremantle, at Strickland Oval; MANDURAH v Kwinana, at Rushton Park.

Adamson, a veteran of 165 league games with West Perth and SA club Norwood, would add valuable experience and marking power up forward for the Tigers, something they lacked against Wanneroo.

South Perth are also seeking a clearance for Adamson's former West Perth teammate Ron Wilson, from Wanneroo.

BIG WIN

ARMADALE bounced back into the top six from ninth spot, with their 190-point win over Rockingham.

The Demons look set to consolidate their spot in the six with a victory over Gosnells at League headquarters on Sunday.

Gosnells hit rock bottom last week when they were beaten by Fremantle by three points.

Gosnells have won just one game this year and are sitting a dismal 15th on the ladder.

WANNEROO, with their sights now firmly on second spot on the 17-team ladder, should continue to gain player talent this weekend as the June 30 clearance deadline approaches.

The Roos will have former SFL combined team members Steve Finch and Alan Crabbe back in action this week.

Finch as returned from Victoria where he was playing in the VFA and Crabbe played reserves last Sunday.

The Roos should prove too strong for Kenwick at Kingsway Reserve and continue a winning sequence that should keep them in second spot until the season's biggest show-down of strength, against derby rivals Osborne Park on July 20.

KALAMUNDA, looking confident to defend the title they have won for the past two seasons, should force Kelmscott back into the race for the remaining places in the final six with a win at Ray Owen Reserve.

The Bulldogs are the league's biggest improvers in 1986, but don't appear to have the strength around the ground to upset the reigning premiers.

The clash of ruckmen Kevin Ferguson (Kalamunda) and Marinus Potter and followers Ric Ellard (Kalamunda) and Doug Beattie around the packs is sure to be a highlight.

WILLETTON should keep their finals hopes alive with a victory over Canning at Burrendah Reserve.

Junior personality of the week

LEW NATHAN

LEW Nathan has saturated himself in football and cricket for most of his 65 years.

A retired foreman of a clothing company, he has had great input in junior and senior football, especially in the Subiaco district where he has lived for 38 years.

Sydney-born Lew began playing football at the Mt Hawthorn Primary School and carried on at Perth Boys' School.

After three seasons with North Perth, in the old Temperance League, he joined West Perth in 1941 as a rover-wingman. His league career was curtailed with five years at the war, but on resumption he took his tally to 23 league games, including being a reserve in the 1946 grand final side, before injuries halted his career.

He was a member of the WAFL Umpires' Association from 1950-66 as a goal and field umpire and 15 years as their secretary, resulting in life membership in 1962.

As coach of the Wembley 12s, he learnt to dread the Doubleview Junior Football Club; losing three consecutive grand finals by two, two and four points. He then coached the Jolimont 13s and 14s for two premierships in two years, producing five successive grand finals.

He was also a delegate to the now-defunct Subiaco Junior Council during that five-year period and from 1967-69, he coached the combined sides which took annual trips to Victoria.

Between 1971-78 he was SJC's Umpires' Advisor and was also umpires' advisor for the South Suburban-Murray Football League from 1968-76.

The SJC issued Lew with his second life membership in 1973, with his third coming from the North Perth Cricket Club, where he played 154 first grade games as a batsman-wicketkeeper. He still holds a club record — a 234-run third wicket partnership with the late Laurie Bandy in the 1947-48 season. Through cricket, Lew became involved in the media and has been a part-time cricket and football writer for The Sunday Times for 20 years.

Lew has many football highlights, but two stand out.

"I was privileged to play in a winning football premiership for South Australia against Victoria in Queensland while in the Army during the war," he said.

"And I can never forget taking a mark over the great Merv McIntosh at Leederville Oval in 1946."

Lew's biggest thrill these days is seeing young footballers and cricketers develop into top sports people.

TOP SIDES CLASH

EAST Fremantle are eagerly awaiting this week's match against top side Claremont.

The Sharks went down by one point in their last encounter and will be primed to reverse the result this time.

East Perth should prove too strong for Perth and Subiaco seem to have West Perth's measure.

South Fremantle need a good victory over Swans to keep the four in sight — a loss to Swans would make it hard for South to make the finals.

□ □ □

EAST PERTH FIGHT BACK IN STYLE

EAST Perth's convincing victory over South Fremantle tipped the Bulldogs out of the four and gave Royals coach Greg Henderson the tonic he needed to rejuvenate his side.

With only eight matches remaining, the fight for fourth spot will be contested on a weekly basis as only two points separate Subiaco, East Perth and South Fremantle.

□ □ □

FALCONS FALTER

FALCONS coach Jim DiCarlo was an angry man after the West Perth-Claremont match.

His side had outscored Claremont in two of the four quarters before succumbing to a 101-point drubbing.

"The loss has set us back badly," says DiCarlo. "We have been pushing top sides to the line and this defeat is just what we didn't need."

□ □ □

WET START

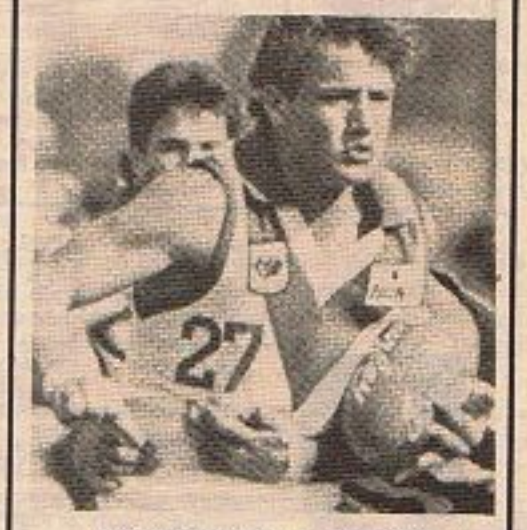
WHEN colts games start at 9.15am on Saturday the oval surface is normally covered in morning dew, so even on a fine day the ball becomes slippery within minutes and dry-ball skills give way to wet weather tactics.

It is no coincidence that more goals are scored after half time when the ball and surface are dry.

While acknowledging that football is a winter sport, it is a shame that these talented youngsters are subjected to these playing conditions every week.

If colts games could start at 9.45am — chances are there wouldn't be the long boring break between the reserves and the league match.

□ □ □



JAKOVICH FIRES

SOUTH Fremantle's Allen Jakovich has had a year of highs and lows.

The talented forward started in the league side, but has slowly slipped back through the ranks to colts where he booted nine goals in a losing side last week.

He has a lot to offer football and with the right approach he can bounce back and prove his worth.

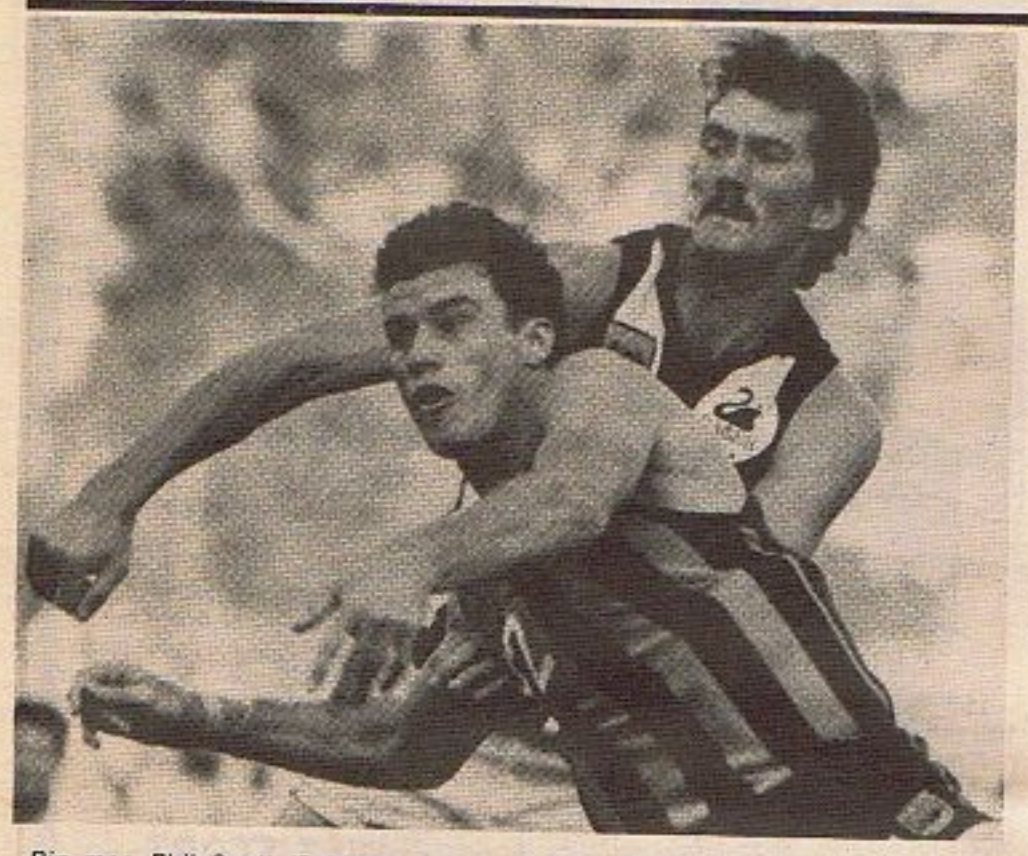
PETER Borrello's Buccaneer Pools and radio 6PR join together for one of football's richest awards — with the support of Westside Football.

The Buccaneer-of-the-year in WA football will receive a $1000 gold medallion, plus a cheque for $1000 for topping the statistics table.

The award goes to the player who finishes the year with the most kicks and handballs as judged by Westside Football's team of statisticians at each game.

The current leader is Claremont's Steve Malaxos who has a handy lead on South Fremantle's Mark Bairstow.



Big men Phil Scott (Subiaco) and Swan Districts' Jim Buckley battle for possession in last Saturday's clash at Subiaco Oval.

WA Trophies and Gifts — WA's star performer

EACH week the top performer in the WAFL will receive a magnificent pewter tankard (pictured right) courtesy of WA Trophies and Gifts, of Victoria Park.

LAST week's top performer was Subiaco's Brian Taylor, who had 18 kicks, 21 handballs and five marks for a total of 75 points.

A progressive season tally of the top 20 players in the categories of kicks, marks, hit outs, handballs and disposals.

Statistical Roundup

This tally board gives individual kick, mark and handball totals for the leading players in each of the major football States. Points are allocated on a basis of 1 for a kick, 2 for a handpass and 3 for a mark to evaluate a player's consistency.

Each week, the player polling the highest tally of points under this system wins a dinner for two at Isabella's Restaurant, which is part of the Chateau Commodore Hotel in Hay Street, Perth.

WESTSIDE RATINGS

BIG MEN STILL BATTLE IT OUT

LAURIE Keene and Peter Sartori, the game's two most talented big men, continue their neck-and-neck struggle in the Westside Ratings award.

The Subiaco ruckman-forward polled another eight out of 10 last week to keep pace with his Swan Districts counterpart and only one point separates the pair. Sartori still leads with 93 points from his 13 games, with Keene on 92.

Moving into the 90s to stay in contention is Claremont skipper Steve Malaxos, who polled an eight last week even though he went off injured towards the end of the game. That takes his tally to 90.

Peter Jackson 30's Superscore

CLAREMONT lost their chance of snatching the second series Peter Jackson Superscore prize of $7500 out of Subiaco's hands last week.

The Tigers were within striking distance of the Lions, but their unexpected loss to West Perth returned them only 1½ points to leave them on 26½ points, 2½ behind Subiaco.

The Lions picked up five points for their crushing win over Swan Districts and their trip to Kalgoorlie this weekend sees them chasing just four points to be certain of taking out the cash for the second time this year.

West Perth, on 24½ points after their strong effort against Claremont, are not out of the race — an all-the way win over Subiaco this Sunday would help their cause, depending on how the Tigers get on.

UMPS UNDER FIRE AGAIN

But here's a solution

UMPIRES have come in for their fair share of criticism from coaches, players and the media over the past few weeks.

DORRO'S DIARY

BY GRANT DORRINGTON

Each year at about this time, the attention turns to the man in white.

I believe that this occurs because of the football immaturity of our umpires.

Like young league footballers, they are vulnerable to lapses in concentration — this can be seen in the performances of teams that have immature players such as the Bulldogs, Royals and the Swans.

Nothing beats experience and this is an area of umpiring that has been down for the past few seasons.

Since the retirement of Ron Powell, Bob Phillips and Ross Capes, to mention a few, the next generation of umpires has had very little experience.

How can we overcome this problem?

I have always believed that playing league football gives you a greater understanding of the pressures and demands our game places on players each week.

Understanding why players do things, say things and react, is a knowledge few people who don't play will ever get.

The spirit of the game is the main quote for umpires to follow — this is something you can't inject into people who have never been out there to absorb the pressures of league football.

Don't get me wrong; there is still a role for umpires to develop through the ranks. But the more football experience a man has, the better he will be when called upon to wear the whites and assume the responsibilities.

Ray Scott and the late Mick Cronin — two of the best the game has seen — were both players who became umpires.

Being accepted in any business or walk of life depends upon a person's personal experience in that area.

Young umpires have to earn that acceptance from players, coaches and the media during their time as apprentices umpiring colts, reserves and country football.

Former league players such as John Hayes, Stan Nowotny, Alex Hamilton, Barry Beecroft, Tony Morley, Rod Barrett and Kevin Worthington all have the spirit of the game and character to add greatly needed experience to the role of the men in white.

These men don't need to travel to the country each week to gain experience; they have earnt it over years of highs and lows playing the game.

They know what it's like to get hit as well as receive the accolades from being at the top one week and then the biggest mug on the ground the next.

I'm certain that a group of past players could be assembled whenever required and, after specialist training on such things as the positioning required by umpires, they could be a beneficial addition to our game.

It would be a great promotion for the game to try out this suggestion at a game before the season is over.

Last Saturday's game between the Bulldogs and the Royals would have been a great time to experiment.

We have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Alex Hamilton . . . he would make a great umpire.

A GREAT CONTEST

LAST week's game-of-the-day between Claremont and West Perth was one of the best examples of Australian football you could see.

Fierce tackling, strong body work, pressure marks and exciting goals gave spectators their money's worth.

The lead changed many times, coupled with tough fightbacks by both teams at different stages of the game.

Some of the individual duels were absorbing to watch.

Steve Malaxos on Brendon Bell in the centre; Geoff Miles against Craig Nelson, Phil Bradmore and Michael O'Connell...and there were many other top battles, creating great watching for the entire game.

Perhaps the best duel I've seen for years was between former Falcon goalshooter Derek Kickett and new State half-back Dean Laidley.

Both players competed fiercely all day with no holds barred. The contest had no spite, but both players gave out plenty whenever the opportunity presented itself.

Kickett took several great pressure marks, while Laidley's spoiling was that of a desperately committed player.

As a critic, this type of one-on-one contest doesn't occur enough in today's football.

Players can move around wherever they want and therefore, at times, avoid errors by making out they weren't on a particular player who causes trouble.

Kickett and Laidley played their hearts out for their clubs; something that both coaches would have been proud of.

Football needs this sort of gladiator-type football contests to create the interest that makes our game one of the greatest codes in the world.

Well played Dean and Derek — the winner of your duel was the game!
